7 cats need 'good' homes this weekend

Seven cats remain to be adopted at the Association for the Protection of Animals (APA) shelter at the Granite City Army Installation, which must be vacated of animals this weekend.

APA members will be at the shelter from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and from noon to 4 p.m. on Sunday to talk to prospective owners.

The cats are pets who have lived at the APA facility for periods from one to four years, an APA volunteer said this week. She stressed the animals offered for adoption must go to homes where their general welfare is considered.

"We are screening people before letting them adopt a cat and will not let the cats go to those who want an outdoor animal," she said.

The volunteer worker explained the cats have been housed in a heated building and have not been able to build up a winter coat.

These cats may be put out doors this summer and fall and by next winter they will have a winter coat.

Arrest 2 after truck burglary

John W. Cone, 19, of 2015 Washington Ave., and a 16-year-old Berkeley, Mo., boy were arrested at 11:25 a.m. Tuesday and were charged with burglary. The juvenile also was charged with possession of marijuana.

It was alleged they broke into the truck of Frank Schermmer, 2400 Lincoln Ave., while parked in the 1400 block of 21st Street and stole a citizens' band radio valued at $75.

The women in a beauty shop, across from the parked truck called police and said they had watched two youths try to open the doors of several vehicles in that block and then use a knife to pry open the vent window of the truck.

The younger boy then got into the truck, put the radio under his coat and the two walked on 21st Street toward Edison Avenue. A police car stopped two youths at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue and arrested them.

It was alleged the radio was found under the younger boy's coat and a knife was found in Cone's possession. The radio had a name tag with Schermmer's name on it, police said.

Chouteau board approves $40,000 in tax warrants

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Feb. 10, 1977 Page 5

The Chouteau Town Board of Auditors Monday night approved the sale of two tax anticipation warrants to provide a total of $40,000 for the township's highway department.

At two previous meetings, the board refused permission to Highway Commissioner James Estes to sell the warrants, saying the expenditures of the money would exceed his budget.

The certified public auditors warned the board after the last annual audit that approving expenditures in excess of budget amounts may be violating state laws and suggested all expenditures in excess of the budget be refused.

Estes was requested to contact his attorney and prepare the budget revisions necessary to expend the money before the board would approve the anticipation warrants.

Monday night, Estes brought ordinances transferring funds within the general road fund and special hard road to enable the spending of some of the money. The board approved the ordinances, one transferring $4,000 in the general road fund from oiling to the category maintenance and operation of equipment, and the other transferring $2,000 in the special hard road fund from salaries to the category of maintenance of roads and repairs of equipment.

Estes said his attorney had given him an opinion it would be legal to sell the anticipation warrants and approve expenditures up to the maximum amounts in the amended budgets.

The board then approved the payments of about $12,000 in bills for materials and equipment maintenance, $3,400 in payroll and $3,500 for insurance premiums for the highway department.

While examining the bills, Estes was questioned about what some board members felt were extensive purchases of putty, sanding discs, paint and other materials normally used for automotive body work.

There had been allegations earlier this year that highway department workers had been using the township's garage to repair the bodies of private automobiles.

Estes told the board all of the putty, sandpaper and paint had been used for repairing township trucks and the board approved the bills after some discussion.

A letter was read from

Pacific Indemnity Insurance Co. notifying Estes that a $1,654,552 lawsuit filed against the highway department would exceed the department's liability insurance, should the insurance company lose the suit and should the total amount be awarded.

The company warned that the insurance covers liability only up to $300,000 and in some cases only $100,000, so the highway department may wish to employ its own attorney to aid the insurance company's attorney in defending against the suit.

The suit was filed over a June 15, 1974 auto accident in which Janice Gaudreault was killed. Negligence in maintaining Old Alton Road near WGNU Radio was alleged.

The insurance company's letter was referred to Estes to study.

A special meeting was called for 9 a.m. Saturday in which the town board is to meet with an insurance company representative to discuss the advantages of combining all of the township's insurance policies into one blanket policy. That meeting will be held at the township office, 825 Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Insurance dilemma may hamper nursing school, dental clinic

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville President Kenneth A. Shaw said Tuesday that professional schools throughout the U.S. are facing a serious challenge in regard to malpractice insurance coverage.

He said insurance companies generally are offering less coverage, while premiums are escalating to prohibitive levels, forcing institutions of higher education to consider alternatives.

basic policy is "fair" in comparison with last year's coverage.

University officials said, however, that the malpractice coverage offered is inadequate, in that the apparent low bidder only offered $100,000 coverage compared with $10 million in the current policy. The premium quoted is several times higher than the current premium.

University officials allowed the insurance companies additional time to seek more extensive and less expensive coverage before existing policies expire Feb. 19. The coverage applies to the SIUE School of Dental Medicine and School of Nursing, the SIUC School of Medicine and the health service units at all campuses of the system.

Pres. Shaw said the negotiations are at a critical stage, and it is too early to predict the outcome. Meanwhile, the university is moving ahead with exploration of every possible alternative.

The president added that the School of Dental Medicine and School of Nursing will remain open regardless of any temporary curtailment of clinical activities.

Alternatives being considered by SIUE include proposals for legislation that would incorporate malpractice insurance into the state's general liability cover of claims, consortiums with other institutions of higher education, self-insurance, or temporarily curtailing clinical activities, Dr. Shaw said.

Both campuses of SIUE, Edwardsville and Carbondale, are collaborating in negotiations to renew general liability coverage for the SIU system, including professional malpractice insurance. Bids were opened in January and university officials agreed that liability coverage offered in the Drivers' course for elderly

A "Rules of the Road" course for older adults who need to take a driver's license renewal examination will be held at the Granite City Senior Citizen Center, 1918 Edison Ave., it was announced by Edgar Paddock, president of the Senior Citizens Council.

The course will be given in the center Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 15-17 at 7 p.m. Persons interested in taking the course may pre-register by calling 877-4373, Paddock said.

The center is open from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday, for persons who wish to drop in for coffee and cookies, Paddock said. The center also is open until 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

Paddock said the center's new transportation program in which senior citizens are provided rides to shopping points, doctors' offices and other places has been well received. Those wishing to use the service are asked to make reservations at 877-4585 at least one day before the service is needed.

The center also serves luncheons at noon each day Monday through Friday. Anyone 60 or older is welcome to attend, Paddock said, but should make a reservation by 2 p.m. the day before attending. Donations are accepted for the meal.

Misuse of drugs, alcohol topic of seminar today

Abuse of drugs and alcohol and how persons who misuse these drugs can be aided will be the topic of a seminar at 7 p.m.

Permit issued

The S. M. Wilson & Co. construction firm Tuesday obtained a building permit to construct the $639,940 Granite City Township office at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue. Henry Gabriel is architect for the building, for which construction contracts already have been awarded.

Junior gardeners discuss projects

How to create a corsage was demonstrated by Mrs. Wilmer Winter for members of the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club, who met in the Winter home, 4016 Vine Blvd., during the weekend.

Jill Donley, club president, conducted the business session, and roll call was answered by naming a tree.

Plans were made to plant a tree at the new fire station and to sponsor a bake sale. Both events were scheduled for later this spring.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Brad Busch, Mary and Craig Cavins, Jill and Joe Donley, Sharon and John Lamb, Marylou Metcalf, Nancy Cuvar and Mrs. Jerry Donley.

The club will next meet with Jennifer Herman, 1909 Poston Road.

How to make physics a really fun course

By JOAN MUBARAO

SPRINGFIELD — Do you feel out of it when the conversation at the truck stop turns to the concepts of Pythagoras?

Did you embarrass yourself when the talk at the laundromat inevitably turned to neutron stars, and you thought they were bionic cars?

How would you do on this simple quiz?

If someone asked your opinion on the current quark theory of elementary particle physics, would you assume:

A. — He's putting you on.

B. — He's drunk.

C. — He's basically a troublemaker.

D. — All of the above.

If you failed in all those situations, the chances are you're one of those people who were afraid to study the physical sciences in school.

Numbers are legion, and on any college campus they form a pathetic segment of the student body, eternally faced with the choice of "quark or quit."

In almost all advanced curricula, a minimum number of hours must be spent studying the physical sciences in order to graduate.

The most popular man on campus walks before the quark; the loveliest crowd of plumes when placed with physics. (There are, rumor says, some special rules for people who major in high school.)

For the rest of them, help is on the way — at least if they attend the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Helped by a $15,000 grant from the National Science Foundation, Prof. Ronald Bielik of the Department of Astronomy and Division of General Studies at the U. of I. has developed a new approach.

Designated the "personalized system of instruction" (PSI), the method basically lets students ease into scientific concepts, pacing themselves as they go from unit to unit.

Bielik used the system when he was a teaching fellow at Harvard University, where he received a master's degree in the history of science in 1973, and earned a Ph.D. in physics in 1975.

In the PSI, students follow a guide which directs them to selected readings, audio-tapes, and materials and experiments they complete. They show they have mastered one unit by passing a written test.

When a student fails, he is graded immediately during personal interviews with the course's teaching staff. Then they proceed to the next unit.

Each block covers a topic in physics, astronomy, or both. (Among them will be that current quark theory of elementary particle physics, not to mention neutron stars — Bielik will not mention them again if you won't.)

Every two weeks the students attend a lecture given by Bielik or slides or a film. The nature of scientific inquiry and other topics not easily presented in an individual study format are covered at these sessions. Between lectures, students meet in small groups.

Bielik believes PSI is more effective than traditional lecture sections by letting students move ahead in small steps, with individual tutoring always available.

When all learning is locked into a tight schedule of lectures and assigned reading, students who fail to understand a concept or fact behind many scientific principles and mathematics generally, this happens too often.

Bielik's PSI approach will be offered to liberal arts students at the UIUC as "Structure and Thought in Physical Science," offered in the coming spring semester, and "The Physical Universe," offered next fall. Students who complete the sequence will fulfill the liberal arts requirement that they earn at least six hours credit in physical sciences for a degree.

Purge of 'mystery' workers Children need to watch diets, too

By BOB ESTILL

SPRINGFIELD — There will be no political firings, but there will be a purge from the state payroll of "mystery employees."

Those are promises by Gov. James Thompson and his state personnel director, William Boys.

They are likely to be hard to keep.

Political firings have been a part of every administration, despite the state personnel code and court rulings.

"Ghost" or "mystery" employees — those phantom figures whose actual duties are as mysterious as their supposed supervisors — are not new here.

Every governor going back at least as far as William Straton has tucked away on department payrolls persons whose actual jobs bore little or no relationship to the department where they were carried on the payroll.

Richard Ogilvie, the last Republican governor before Thompson, had political operatives on virtually all the department payrolls.

But it was Gov. Dan Walker who really brought the practice into the forefront. It became an issue in the Walker administration because he was expanding the practice while striving to project the image of the accountable political reformer.

It particularly went against the grain of employees in the Department of Transportation. Walker cut more than 1,000 employees from the DOT payroll shortly after taking office, but it was later discovered he had placed on the DOT payroll at least 50 persons with no direct transportation responsibilities.

Boys, a career employee who vacated the post of deputy state personnel director after Walker took office, now says finding and eliminating "mystery" payrollers "will be one of our prime goals."

He spoke about eliminating such employees at the same news conference where Thompson announced the reappointment of Transportation Secretary Langhorne Bond, whose department provided payroll berths for many Walker advance men and other nontransportation lobbyists.

Both Thompson and Boys said they won't attempt to subvert the personnel code through such devices as eliminating jobs to get rid of the opposition and bringing their own supporters into the same jobs with different titles.

Thompson reserves the merely omitting the addition of salt.

Actually there is no such thing as a "sodium free" diet because it is present in so many common foods. In fact, it is possible to have a high intake of sodium without using salt at all.

MSG (monosodium glutamate) is widely used as a flavor enhancer. Milk and milk products of all kinds — cheeses, ice cream, cottage cheese, yogurt, skim milk, dry milk — are all high in sodium. The fat content of milk products is not involved with the sodium content. Milk can be fat free, yet high in sodium.

Commercially prepared foods are usually quite high in sodium because of the MSG and salt used to improve the flavor. The common foods traditionally eaten by children and teenagers — hot dogs, potato chips, milk shakes, soda pop, pizza, French fries — are unusually high in sodium.

It is often difficult for a hypertensive teenager, who is subject to pressures to conform to his group, to order low sodium foods in a restaurant. To avoid embarrassment, while protecting his own health, the youngster should be taught to handle the alternatives.

Sherbert is better than ice cream, for example. Fruits of all kinds, gelatin desserts, iced tea and fruit juices are good choices.

Lemon is an excellent alternative for salt. Herbs and spices enhance flavors and eliminate the need for salt. Vinegar of all kinds adds pungency. There are many fine salt substitutes on the market. Flavorings and extracts can be used to heighten flavors.

Canned foods can be washed off in cold water to get rid of salt. Some fresh vegetables are naturally high in sodium. Celery is one example. Keep the hypertensive child under the care of a good doctor and teach him to beware of sodium in his diet.

Dear Shirley: How much coffee can I safely drink each day? I am 25 years old.

Dear Miss E.V.: Four to six cups of coffee per day is acceptable.

Dear Shirley: Is milk a good source of vitamin C?

Dear Mrs. D.Y.: No, milk is a poor source of vitamin C, but it is high in calcium, riboflavin and protein.

News notes

Robert Craig of Danville and Sterling, former Illinois state representatives, were convicted Wednesday of forcing car rental firms to pay $1,200 to kill legislation that might have lowered rental autos' resale value.

A federal grand jury this week began investigating campaign contributions to former Gov. Daniel Walker by firms or persons awarded state contracts while he was governor.

The Nevada Senate on Tuesday approved making the state the 36th to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment.

A one-week U.S. House recess starting last night is expected to assure congressmen of a $12,900 pay raise, effective unless returned by either house. The U.S. Senate tabled by 56-42 an effort to avoid the raise.

Four work crews were called back Tuesday at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant here and a fifth is to return next Monday, restoring full production. A temporary layoff of 1,400 of the 1,980 employees had begun last Thursday, Feb. 3.

Two youths were seen at the truck by Officer William Steiner while on a routine patrol. Steiner radioed for a backup and then approached the pickup truck where the youths allegedly were inside. Seeing the officer, they attempted to run but were caught.

Police assisted Madison in catching the youths.

Arrest 2 in attempt to steal truck

Madison police at 4:10 a.m. today apprehended a 19-year-old Granite City youth and a 16-year-old youth living in the Cloverleaf, an alleged attempt to steal a pickup truck.

The truck belongs to Carl Legans, 1813 Market St., Madison, and was parked in front of his residence. Police found the ignition punched out, with the ignition rim on the floor.

The 19-year-old is being held in Madison City jail pending a court appearance on charges of attempted auto theft and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Granite City police also have a warrant charging him with violation of probation.

The 16-year-old was released to his father at 8:30 a.m. pending petitions being filed with juvenile authorities charging attempted auto theft and curfew violation.

Two youths were seen at the truck by Officer William Steiner while on a routine patrol. Steiner radioed for a backup and then approached the pickup truck where the youths allegedly were inside. Seeing the officer, they attempted to run but were caught.

Police assisted Madison in catching the youths.

Visitors flock to outdoors

SPRINGFIELD — State park attendance hit a record high in 1976, with an increase of 1,640,251 persons using the outdoor areas.

The increase is attributed to several reasons, according to Charles L. Tamminga, associate director for land and historic sites.

"Some new parks, expanded facilities and good weather probably had the most to attract people to the parks," Tamminga said.

A statewide campaign also has been in effect for two years to encourage persons to attend park areas not so widely used, he said.

The parks with a visitor rate of over a million in 1976 were: Carlyle Reservoir, Illinois Beach, Kankakee River, Kickapoo, Mississippi Palisades, Rock Cut and Starved Rock.

About six new areas were opened to the public for use last year. Channahon on the Illinois-Michigan canal is now under the direction of the Illinois Department of Conservation and had 37,911 visitors. While under construction in 1975, Sam Parr had 61,000 visitors. In 1976, when construction was completed, attendance increased by 35,000 to a total of 96,979 persons.

Kankakee River recreational area had an attendance total of 1,447,861, which made it the most popular park in the state.

Fox River State Park had an increase from 150,552 in 1975 to 214,370 persons in 1976. Des Plaines conservation area had additional day-time facilities and campgrounds which accounted for the upswing in one year from 81,000 to 90,000.

Besides the overall increases, some particular areas had a decrease in attendance. Tamminga said those areas were under construction.

BOOK REVIEWS From allergies to Swiss banks

EATING DANGEROUSLY: THE HAZARDS OF HIDDEN ALLERGIES. by Dr. Richard Mackarness; Harcourt, Brace, Jovanovich; 166 pages; $6.95.

People consider that when they are eating food they are mixing chemicals. But that is what they are doing. And, as is well known, some chemicals can together with disastrous results. When chemicals clash in the human body, it is called allergy. Mackarness shows in this book how the wrong foods can lead to a variety of mental and physical illnesses. He also says that chemicals being added to food these days can result in allergic reactions. Sadly, not many people consider that what they eat may have something to do with the way they feel. (ED)

THEY CAME BEFORE COLUMBUS: by Ivan Van Sertima; Random House; 288 pages; $15. Rutgers Prof. Van Sertima has a serious study just right for the 1970s. It is a useful text as part of the process of enlightening both American and black on the history of black people. His theme is that not only did blacks come to America before Christopher Columbus did in 1492 but, unlike other explorers, they made a significant impact on American civilization. They found here. They were part of the Mayan and the Aztec cultures, he says, and they had influence on early Mexican and South American languages. Van Sertima's work is a genuine contribution to little-known aspects of the history of the Americas. (JP)

THE MAN IN THE DUG-OUT: by Donald Honig; Follett Publishing Co.; 250 pages; $9.95. "Managers are hired to be fired," according to Bobby Bragen, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. They are also second-guessed by fans and press. Managing a baseball team can be pretty frustrating one minute and very enjoyable and rewarding the next as you'll see in Honig's book. Honig has compiled interviews with some of baseball's great and not-so-great managers and the result is an inside look at what makes a big league manager tick. (RW)

COMPLETE GUIDE TO SWISS BANKS: by Harry Browne; McGraw-Hill; 544 pages; $9.95. In times of financial uncertainty many investors look to the safety of Swiss banks. But which bank? That's what this book is all about. Browne compares the relative security and services of the Swiss banks, and explains how they can provide complete privacy for the investor. This is probably the most exhaustive look ever recorded of those famed institutions. (OO) right to put his own people in policy-making positions but says unequivocally "nobody in non-policy jobs will be fired because of politics."

While saying there won't be mass firings in the non-policy jobs, Thompson says policy-makers will be selected by himself and his department directors, not by political organizations or figures.

Thompson, like Walker, starts his office with the image of a reformer. If he doesn't make good on those promises, Thompson, also like Walker, can expect to hear the cry of "hypocrite."

original sponsor of the enabling legislation. Both of these legislators played an important part in impressing upon the governor the importance of this project to the state of Illinois.

"Gov. Thompson correctly recognized the importance of this project to the state of Illinois and the local area, and authorized the Capital Development Board to call for bids."

"The facility to be constructed is an intermodal facility to transload bulk products such as grain and grain products from rail cars to river barges."

The governor commented, "The Tri-City Port District facility will provide shippers vital access to the Mississippi River below the bottleneck created by Lock and Dam 26 at Alton."

He added "Except for the most severe of winters, this port will be the northernmost facility that can be operated the year-around on the river."

The project is designed to encourage primarily shippers of grain and grain products to maintain their current facilities and locate new ones near the planned new dock near the midpoint of the local harbor area, port officials explained.

The law that is now being implemented is the second to pass the legislature. The original bill later was clarified in its financing provisions so that the Tri-City Port could use some but not all of its income to retire the terminal bonds.

The Port board is headed by John N. Belleof, Madison city clerk.

Carl A. Ranft, Port general manager, estimated that the new terminal will increase hourly shipping tonnage here from 350 to 750. "We're running 24 hours a day, seven days a week," he commented.

"We now have a million tons of backlog."

Sen. Vasilabene praised Gov. Thompson and said former Gov. Daniel Walker not only had blocked the port terminal but also a civic center and the proposed separation of SIUE from SIUC. "That's his legacy to Madison County," the senator remarked.

Ranft said 30 workers will be added to the present staff of 66 when the terminal is opened.

User fees already make up the bulk of the port district budget and efforts are being made to make the district economically self-sufficient. It continues to receive some state subsidy.

The Capital Development Board indicated it will issue a call for bulk terminal construction bids in the next five to ten days.

3 hurt in truck-train accident

Three men in a pickup truck were injured when their truck struck the caboose of a slow-moving freight train at the Edwardsville Road crossing near 20th Street at 1:30 a.m. today.

The driver, John D. Hodge, 26, East St. Louis, was charged with careless driving. Police alleged the crossing lights were flashing when the accident occurred. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for bruises to both knees, his left hand and his left arm and pain to his back and head and was admitted for observation.

Gerald Whitton, 23, East St. Louis, a passenger, was taken by ambulance to the hospital where he also was admitted for observation with bruises to his right knee, right lower leg, left hand and forehead. A series of x-rays was taken.

Larry Odom, Des Moines, Iowa, another passenger, went to the hospital for treatment of a head injury and bruises to his right knee and right elbow, but he declined to be admitted and left.

well as a great deal of scuba-diving equipment and tools in the laundry room at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Police said the damage may be as high as $15,000 to $20,000. He said he went outside to his mailbox and when he returned moments later, he saw the laundry room in flames. There were no injuries and Mitchell Volunteer Firemen kept the flames from spreading into the house.

The cause of the fire has not been determined, but a faulty space heater is suspected. Delpe said he smelled propane gas in the house for several days prior to the fire, but gas company officials inspected the house and found no signs of a leak.

Mitchell firemen were on the scene two and one-half hours.

Condition serious

Gene Lundak, Collinsville, a crane operator for Granite City Steel, remained in serious condition in Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryville, this week after being beaten and robbed on his front porch Friday.

Injuries include a fractured skull, a concussion, partial loss of vision and blood clots, sources said. His walker was stolen and later was found in Caseyville. The money had been removed.

general chairman of the next yearly UW drive here this fall.

About 50 United Way givers attended the meeting at the YMCA and participated in the election of board members.

The board then chose the new officers.

Keith Rohrs, executive director, was welcomed by the gathering.

He and Winter gave brief talks.

Milonski commented, "A most challenging but successful year is behind us, thanks to dedicated efforts by many individuals concerned with our community welfare."

"Raising a half million dollars is an achievement that speaks for itself, and will allow the many agencies to perform the important functions so vital to our community."

"The leadership and unselfish devotion of Bill Terrell, drive chairman, was in evidence throughout the long and tedious campaign and the entire United Way team radiated his enthusiasm and confidence."

"Tom Majewski and his budget committee did an outstanding job in visiting the many agencies and allocating the necessary money so they may perform their vital services. This fine group was able to allocate over $36,000 in additional funding for better and improved services in 1977."

"A special thanks is in order for Al Steinhauer, retiree citizen, who filled in so ably during this past year."

"It would be easy to go on and on naming individuals, but it can be summed up in one brief sentence."

"The dedicated volunteers are what makes our United Way family what it is, and we will continue to succeed as long as this spirit prevails in our community."

Terrell said, "This year the Tri-Cities Area United Way raised more than has ever been raised before. Thanks to our total area, it works."

"The accomplishment of raising $502,219, or $27,219 over our largest goal yet, makes me proud of our people for at least three reasons."

"First, I emphasized from the beginning that if our workers

CAR BURNS

Damage was estimated at $300 from a fire in the car of Matthew Greco, 1434 Norwood Drive, early this week in the parking lot of K-Mart on Nameoki Road. An electrical short-circuit in the dashboard wiring was believed the cause. The dashboard was destroyed.

worked and asked our people to give, we would raise $500,000. The results were that we worked and, as is in most situations, we reached that goal."

"Secondly, raising this record amount of money during a time without a permanent executive director further proves this community is a winner and can handle any condition if we stand together."

"Thirdly, and most important, the amount of money raised more nearly meets the requested needs of our community agencies."

"A special thanks to our division chairmen and their group leaders, along with the hundreds of workers for the countless hours they spent. A big, big thanks to Al Steinhauer for the many contributions he made to our cause as acting executive director."

"Again, hats off to our industrial division. This group of people give us positive leadership and example year in and year out."

"They exceeded their goal by over $23,000—a tough job done by a group of tall people."

"I especially appreciate the many dollars some of our industries and businesses spent in resocializing all of their employees."

"I want to individually thank, from the bottom of my heart, Mitch Milonski. This man has contributed so much to our community during his working years in many ways, but especially to our United Way efforts."

"He not only believes in the United Way, but is a United Way doer. He has given great example to us and others to come."

"I am excited about our future. Aren't you? I think our 1977 Campaign should begin now."

"What a crew of leaders we have for this coming year."

Maybe you have gathered that I am very positive about our Tri-Cities' future. I hope you are.

"To quote some great phrases from an outstanding religious leader of today, 'If your life goals are for a year, plant wheat. If your goals are for ten years, plant trees. But if your goals are for life, serve mankind.'"

"I believe this area is attempting to serve mankind through our United Way efforts," Terrell concluded.

Those re-elected to three-year terms on the United Way board were Mrs. Mary Tarpoff and W. F. Winter.

Newly elected to the board for three years were David Anderson, Carl Baczenas, William Donovan, David V. Fox, Joseph Glik, Al Hudzik, Thomas Majewski and Thomas Nesbit. They replace William H. Albers, Clyde Boyd, David Brooks, William Guthrie, Theodores Kemp, Donald E. Van Horn, Richard West and M. B. Milonski.

The local diving group, one of the most active clubs in the bi-state metropolitan area, draws its membership from Collinsville, Alton, Edwardsville and surrounding communities, in addition to the Quad-City area.

Paul Lamm, president, extended the invitation to prospective members to attend Sunday night's meeting to learn plans for instruction courses, diving meets in the spring and summer months and other activities.

A highlight of the club year will take place at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 19, when the seventh annual Bubblemasters Ball is scheduled at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison.

Music for dancing will be furnished by Blue Sunshine and the cost of admission, $9 per person, includes free beer, a buffet supper, setups and snacks. Many gifts are distributed throughout the evening, Lamm said.

Persons wishing to purchase a ticket are invited to contact Sharon Earney, at 877-5966. The club sponsors the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT), a volunteer group which works closely with state, county and local law enforcement agencies upon request.

Rites held today for John Damo, 65

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today at a Madison funeral home for John Paul Damo, 65, of Jefferson Barracks Nursing Home. He died at 9 p.m. Sunday at Jefferson Barracks Hospital.

A former resident of Granite City, he was employed at Nesco prior to his retirement. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Jack (Marie) Kotyk of St. Louis. A brother, Frank Damo, preceded him in death. Burial was in St. John Cemetery, 2801 Nameoki Road.

Cloverview hears Mrs. O'Neil

Mrs. B. C. O'Neil gave a study lesson on the wild flower bloodroot, a native flower of Illinois, at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Cloverview Garden Club.

She explained the root of the flower lies dormant during the winter the surface of the earth and has a white blossom in the spring. The species is of the poppy family she added.

Members gathered in the home of Mrs. Edna Meikamp, 2429 Lynch Ave., president-elect of the club, for a 12:30 dessert luncheon.

The club collect was given by Mrs. John Lentz. In the absence of the President Mrs. Richard Branding, Mrs. O'Neil, vice-president presided. The group gave the pledge to the garden club flag in unison.

Mrs. O'Neil announced a flower show will be staged by the Ikebana Club at St. Clair Square, Fairview Heights on Friday, Saturday and Sunday and on Friday will feature a demonstration on Japanese flower arranging at 2 p.m.

Reservations are now being taken for the annual convention of Garden Clubs of Illinois, Inc., set for April 24-26 at Arlington Park Hilton Hotel in Arlington, Ill., which will also mark the 50th anniversary of the organization.

Mrs. John Jenkins reported installation of newly elected officers will be conducted on March 8.

Mrs. James Himmelright presented a program on "litter control" and read a letter from Mrs. Ralph Parker, national chairman of the litter control committee, now residing in Port Charlotte, Fla.

She stressed the need for precision litter control systems in communities, adding that municipal governments and private citizens can deal successfully with the problems where people live, work and travel by bringing about an awareness that clean surroundings began with a persons own premises.

Others attending were Mesdames William Bradley, Charles Gandler, George Knapp, Robert McCauley and Fred Orr.

Madison to study plan for ambulance service

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
Adequate ambulance service for residents of Madison was the major topic at the Tuesday night City Council meeting.

City Clerk John Bellotti read a letter from Thomas Ambulance Service, announcing that it will operate only one emergency vehicle after March 15.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said, "We have been telling some checking into the situation and find that a state grant will cover up to 70 percent of the cost if we want to establish a municipal ambulance service."

"I have talked briefly with Mayor Paul Schulz and we need to talk to Mayor William Ebersold in Venice to see what can be done."

"I am going to appoint the insurance committee members to act also as a special ambulance committee. We need to meet right away with Venice officials and get their ideas."

Serving on the new ambulance committee are Aldermen Robert Don Reeves, Don Broyles, Ronald Grzywacz and Booker Walton.

Alderman Grzywacz said, "I am really upset with the attitude of St. Elizabeth Hospital administrators. They derive most of the money and benefit from an ambulance service and now they want to gain it at the taxpayers' expense. I feel they should be more responsive to the problem and carry more of the load. They sure can't be losing money at that hospital."

Mayor Sasyk said, "Hopefully we will be able to work out some type of cooperative arrangements with all three cities (including Granite City) or perhaps between Madison and Venice."

Alderman Paul Ashford of Ward One commented, "One way we can get St. Elizabeth Hospital to take notice is if we all start going to Oliver Anderson Hospital near Maryville when we are sick and for emergencies. It is not that much farther than St. Elizabeth."

The mayor suggested that the aldermanic bridge committee meet with him and a person interested in acquiring the city-owned bridge Saturday at 11 a.m.

"I don't want to identify the firm or individual interested just yet. We want the committee to talk to him and see if we can give a 60 or 90-day option. The interested party and the council both want to see that financing and plans can be worked out to mutual satisfaction," Sasyk said.

"I also want to thank our police department for a job well done. You'll read about it in the Press-Record, but our police arrested four persons for armed robberies and our burglar alarm system helped in the apprehension," Sasyk said.

"I also want to thank everyone that volunteered to help in the swine flu inoculation program. We had a lot of volunteers and it was well organized," Sasyk noted.

In other business the council approved: VFW Poppy Day sales May 27 and 28; free city vehicle stickers until March 15, after which they will be $5 each; workmen's compensation insurance with Travelers of Chicago for one year at a cost of $14,649; the Madison-Venice joint detective grant for another year, and a condemnation suit to be started against owners of property at 1638 Third St. and 1637 Second St.

Warning against confidence game

Elderly persons in the Quad-City area are being alerted that a confidence game may be operating in this area.

One attempt to take money from a 78-year-old Franklin Avenue woman was reported shortly after noon yesterday.

The "scheme" was interrupted prior to any money being taken from the woman.

The intended victim said a black woman, about 30 to 35 years old and of medium build, came to the door of her home moments after the elderly woman returned home from American National Bank and from shopping at the Tri-City Grocery in Bellemore Village Shopping Center.

She said the woman inquired where other elderly persons resided in the neighborhood and then pointed to something in the street, asking what it was.

The woman found the object to be a bank deposit bag and opened it to find money inside.

The black woman said there was a great deal of money inside and a deposit slip indicating $30,000 was in the bag.

She said her boss was head of all the banks in the area and would know what to do, if they called him, so the intended victim allowed the woman into her home and they called a man on the telephone.

The man instructed the elderly woman she would be allowed to keep half the money if she would deposit all of it in his bank, believed to be in St. Louis.

The man kept her on the telephone some time until the elderly woman's daughter arrived and demanded to know what the other woman was doing in the house.

The black woman left, saying she was just trying to help older people.

Police said the incident appears to have been a confidence scheme and the woman would have been asked to put up some of her own money as a bond or an assurance that the deposit bag would be delivered to the bank. Her money then would have been taken, police believe.

Officers ask that anyone who suspects they are being approached as part of a confidence game immediately call the police at 677-4111. Persons conducting legitimate business will not be afraid to have police check their activities, they noted.

Defendant in Venice murder case found shot to death

Eugene "Frog" Loveless, 42, was pronounced dead in his home at 414 Kathryn St., East St. Louis, at 12:12 p.m. Wednesday of a gunshot wound.

East St. Louis police said they believe Mr. Loveless shot himself with either a 12-gauge or a 16-gauge shotgun, both of which were found in his home recently fired. Two women and a child earlier were struck by gunfire from the windows of Loveless' home.

Mr. Loveless was under indictment by a Madison County grand jury on charges of murder and voluntary manslaughter for an incident in which Eddie Ingram, 29, of 1648 Second St., Madison, was fatally stabbed in front of the Chai and Chew Restaurant, 427 Weaver St., Venice, Dec. 3.

Mr. Loveless was to go on trial on those charges next month.

Witnesses said the incident began about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday when two women and a child were canvassing Mr. Loveless' block for Jehovah's

Witnesses said the incident began about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday when two women and a child were canvassing Mr. Loveless' block for Jehovah's

Witnesses and left some literature in the doorway of his home. As they were crossing the street, shots were fired from inside the house through large plate glass windows, pellets striking all three.

They sought safety with a neighbor who called police. Officers noticed three windows of Mr. Loveless' home had been shot out. There was no sign of activity in the house and no shots were fired by either Mr. Loveless or the police after officers arrived, officers said.

Police tried to get Mr. Loveless to answer his door, but received no response. They believed he was inside, because no one had seen him leave through the front door and the rear door was latched from the inside.

Mr. Loveless' wife, Charlene, was called at work and came to the scene, but was unable to get an answer from her husband. Police then fired tear gas into the house, but got no response.

Officers then entered the house at 11:40 a.m. Wednesday and found Mr. Loveless lying in a hallway of his home with gunshot wounds to his stomach and left arm.

The two women and the 4-year-old girl who had been struck with shotgun pellets were taken to Belleview Memorial Hospital where Min Wildermuth, 45, East St. Louis, was admitted in serious condition. Mrs. Songa Peter, 29, and her daughter, Monica, 4, Belleville, suffered minor injuries and were released after emergency room treatment.

'Coffee' worker being reinstated

A female employee of the State Appellate Defender's office who was fired last week because, she said, she refused to make coffee at the office, has requested that her termination be reviewed pursuant to regulations of the agency.

Theodore A. Gottfried, Illinois appellate defender, was on vacation last week when the termination of Iris J. Rivera was ordered. He returned from vacation yesterday and instructed that her employment be continued until the end of the month while a review of the decision is conducted.

The State Appellate Defender's Office represents indigent criminals on their conviction appeals to the Illinois Appellate and Supreme Courts.

County zoning board ok's three permits, rezoning

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended that the Madison County Board approve four zoning requests during the board's regular meeting Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Among the requests recommended for approval was one from Edith Selph and Merle D. Nipper for a special use permit to establish and operate a confectionery in an existing building at 5329 Maryville Road.

The building previously was used for that purpose, but has been closed for more than three years, necessitating a new permit. The building is in an R-3 single-family residential district of Chouteau Township.

Also recommended is a request by Virgil W. Jennings for a special use permit to construct a pole-type accessory building prior to the construction of a permanent building near 8324 Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Jennings also seeks a special use permit to pasture an additional two horses on the property. It is divided between an R-3 district and an M-2 general manufacturing district.

A request by Harlan Pervan for rezoning of a five-acre tract of land from R-3 to a B-4 wholesale business district behind Fairmount Race Track also is recommended for approval. Pervan seeks the permit to continue operation of a fencing installation business on the property at 3425 Fairmount Ave., Nameoki Township.

Also recommended is a special use permit for Leo Glasper and James T. Harper to place a mobile home on Terry Street in the Williams Subdivision, an R-4 single-family residential district of Venice Township.

Recommended stipulations are that the unit be used for up to five years, that it be used for the sole occupancy of the James T. Harper family, and that the unit be removed as soon as the need for it has expired.

Career Awareness series at North

Five programs are being offered students at Granite City High School North during February, all focusing upon "Career Awareness."

The initial session, scheduled today during the third, fourth and fifth hour study periods, concerns "Careers in the Steel Industry."

Interested students convened today and heard Dr. Stanley Howlett, management training specialist and minority affairs administrator for Granite City Steel, discuss opportunities available at the local plant.

Three other programs will be offered to North students during the day and one evening program, sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, will take place in the evening for both students and their parents.

Mrs. June Mills, North High counselor, is coordinating the daytime program and Mrs. Carolyn Koester, Young Careerist chairman for the Business Women's group, is arranging the evening session.

Coordinating the overall series is Roy McConkey, vocational placement counselor for the Granite City School District.

The second program in the five-part series, set for Feb. 17, is geared to motivation and will be presented during the first and second hour assemblies.

Charles Bell Jr. of Robert Morris College, Carthage, Ill., will be the guest speaker. His subject is entitled "Opportunities Unlimited."

"Career Awareness," the program to be presented by the BPW club, is arranged for Feb. 22 at 7:15 p.m. in the North High cafeteria.

Parents and students will be extended an invitation to come and talk personally with people in many different career areas, Mrs. Koester said.

"Future Education Day" will take place Feb. 24 on the library mezzanine during school hours, Mrs. Mills advised.

All seniors and junior students involved in career units will be given the chance to discuss training available beyond high school with representatives from area technical schools, junior colleges and the Armed Forces, among other guests.

The final program in the series, to be presented Feb. 28, will feature Paul Sevarian and Carl Moore of Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Their topic, "Get It All Together," will be offered to students in selected classrooms during school hours.

Further information concerning any of the programs may be obtained by calling Mrs. Mills at North High School.

Seek open primary

A bill to allow Illinois citizens to vote in primary elections without publicly declaring party preference heads the 1977 agenda of the Coalition for Political Honesty.

Patrick Quinn, Coalition spokesman, said this week the group's membership endorsed the concept of open primaries and several other public interest proposals at the group's seventh annual convention held during the weekend in Oak Park.

"We hope to mount a campaign to achieve open primaries," Quinn said, "which will rival the success of our 1976 petition drive, during which we gathered 638,158 signatures in support of the constitutional amendments."

The former Walker administration appointee said he thinks the campaign for open primaries will have widespread appeal.

"Many voters strongly object to publicly revealing their party affiliation, especially since this preference is then made part of a permanent public record. Politicians can misuse this information to penalize opposition party members."

"Voting in a democracy should be free from even the possibility of such intimidation. A person's political party preference should not be allowed to affect his employment, municipal services, business success or standing in the community."

Quinn said the Coalition will urge Illinois citizens to urge state legislators to support House Bill 98, a bill sponsored by Rep. David Robinson (D-Springfield), himself a Coalition member. A similar bill will be introduced by Sen. William Morris (D-Waukegan).

"We also are asking voters to urge individuals and groups to endorse open primaries," Quinn said. "We will supply informed speakers to any interested organization."

Besides open primaries, the group will seek:

- Ethics laws against double public jobs, conflict of interest, and lobbyist abuse in the state legislature.
- A law to prohibit legislators from raising their pay after the general election.
- A "sunset law" to require bureaucracies to periodically justify their existence, and
- Creation of a constitutional amendment creating full-fledged citizen initiative power.

Last year, the Coalition organized a grassroots effort which forced the General Assembly to end its 100-year-old practice of taking advance pay," Quinn said. "This year, we hope to prove that the spirit of citizen action which achieved that victory is alive and growing throughout Illinois."

Ground frost is still a water pipe hazard

The record cold weather has had a serious effect on the water supply to many homes and businesses in this region, R. W. Greaves, manager of the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Company, reported this week.

In many locations, there are over 30 inches of frost in the ground and the cold has penetrated to the home piping, he said.

"As a precautionary measure, many families have allowed their home water to run a very small amount to avoid having frozen pipes."

"The cost of this small amount of water is considerably less than the inconvenience of no water at all or the cost to repair damaged piping," Greaves commented.

"We are expecting somewhat warmer weather this week. However, this will not immediately reduce the cold and frost stored in the ground."

"As a precautionary measure, we suggest that those homes or businesses which experienced frozen facilities continue to run a small amount of water to avoid what could be a continuing problem."

"It will take seven to 10 days of above-freezing weather to reduce ground frost sufficiently to avoid frozen piping."

Buffet, dance for candidates

The Chouteau Civic Group, an organization of Chouteau Township residents, will hold a fund-raising dinner and dance Saturday night to aid the candidates of the Chouteau Citizens' Party.

Wayne Scannell and the Casuals will provide entertainment for the dance, which will be held in the Engineers' Hall, 520 Engineer Road, Mitchell.

A buffet dinner will be served at 8 p.m. with dancing following at 9 p.m. Candidates will be introduced during the dinner.

Chouteau Citizens' Party

Miles, candidate for supervisor; Christine Wallace, candidate for clerk; Albert "Sonny" Stahlhut, tax assessor candidate; William "Bill" Thoeke, tax collector candidate; James L. Estes, incumbent highway commissioner; James E. Greer, incumbent trustee, Jerry Boyd, John Dial and Billie E. Tindall Sr., candidates for trustee.

Opening-round competition is set to begin at 6 p.m. tomorrow, followed immediately afterward by quarterfinal bouts.

On Saturday, starting at noon, semifinals bouts and wrestling back bouts will be held.

Championship, second-place and third-place bouts will start at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Weight class champions and runners-up will advance into sectional competition at GCHS South to compete against representatives of district meets at Cahokia, Harrisburg and Springfield Lanphier.

Tickets will be made available at the Edwardsville gymnasium door prior to the start of each district session at a cost of $1.75 per adult and $1 per student.

Coach William "Bill" Schmitt's GCHS South Warriors will be shooting for their 20th consecutive annual district team title at Edwardsville.

"The way it shapes up on paper," calculates Schmitt, "is that North's Steelers should be favored to claim the team title, followed in order by us (South), Roxana and Edwardsville."

However, he does not count on the Warriors, who have shown unique ability in the district meets whether favored or not.

Both Granite City wrestling teams have formidable records this year against some of the best squads in Illinois and Missouri.

Since the inception of GCHS North as a new school at the start of the fall term in 1973, Coach Walt Whitaker's matmen placed third as a team in the 1973-74 season district competition, second in the 1974-75 season district and third last year.

South High enters the competition with its own holdout tournament title to its credit and a 22-2 dual meet record, which includes wins over four of the teams entered at Edwardsville.

The Warriors won 59-0 over Collinsville, 52-3 over Edwardsville, 60-3 over Alton and 27-1 over Roxana. South lost a 29-21 decision to GCHS North and did not meet Bethalto, Highland or Wood River during the regular season.

GCHS North's Steelers have met six of the teams entered, defeating all of them, and captured a 6-school tourney this season at Quincy.

North won 50-9 over Wood River, 54-0 over Edwardsville, 50-5 over Collinsville, 42-9 over Alton, 38-21 over Roxana and the 25-21 verdict over South High.

Schmitt said two conference tournaments held last weekend may figure in this weekend's district meets.

Roxana claimed the Mississippi Valley Conference team title with five weight class champions, three runners-up and two third-place matmen.

Cahokia is favored to capture its own district meet after taking first place in the Southwestern Conference meet.

North Coach Whitaker believes that "due to individual talents displayed this season, it will be difficult for any one team to dominate the district meet."

"Roxana has four or five matmen capable of competing with anyone," Edwardsville has extensively good wrestlers in the 98, 105 and 167 weight classes, and Alton has an outstanding matman at 185."

North has its starting grapplers ready to go with the exception of an 185-pound competitor, a vacancy created with shifting of wrestlers into other weight classes.

Steelers slated to compete at the district (with season record given) are: 98-pounds—Chris Whelan (26-2); down one class; 105—Kevin Shemwell (14-6); 112—Keith Whelan (12-2); down one class; 119—Tracy Patton (16-12); 126—Matt McCullough (26-21); down one class; 132—John Sands (11-14-1); down one class; 138—Steve Haeffner (11-11); 145—Ray Stuart (18-1-1); 155—Steve Hartline (16-6-1); 167—Mark Widel (26-2), also down one class; and heavyweight James Shemwell (18-11-1).

Schmitt reports that two weight classes remain to be filled on his squad due to injuries in the family of another.

At 112, Scott Clement (4-2 record) is a veteran with 15-2 both may be sidelined with injuries. Brian Basore (4-2 record) also has experience in that weight class.

Sam Perkins (18-10) record at 126 has been out of the state attending the funeral of a relative and may not return in time to compete.

Representing South High in remaining bouts with season record given) will be: 98—Rocky Lupardus (13-7); 105—Wally DeShon (22-5); 119—Randy Basore (14-9); 132—Dave Gaines (20-8); 138—Darrell Hasby (23-2-1); 145—James Carmody (28-0); 155—Mike Forshee (15-13-1); Kevin Wallace (0-5) or Randy Hueser (1-0); 185—Kevin Wilson (24-3); and heavyweight Mark Naglich (27-0).

District officials are to meet tonight at Edwardsville to pre-select individual matmen and prepare weight class pairings for the meet.

He has potential, so we're going to give him a good look this spring.

"Tom Walker came up from Tulsa last season after a 9-5 start. A good competitor, he had a decent winter in Puerto Rico and will compete for one of the relief jobs."

"Steve Waterbury had a good spring last year and was probably disappointed at not making the good club. He will be given an opportunity to compete for one of the relief jobs."

"Steve Dunning will be battling for a right-hander's job. He was sixth in the league last year in strikeout ratio as he averaged close to 12 strikeouts per nine innings pitched. He's a great competitor and will be given a good opportunity."

"Jack Krol, 22 years in the Cardinals' organization, will coach at third. Mo Mazzoli, longtime Cardinal as a player, scout and manager, will be hitting instructor."

"Claude Osteen, 15½ years in the majors league, will be the pitching coach. Sonny Ruberto played for five years in the minors and was in the minors 12 years as a player; during that time, he was on eight winners."

"Mike Caldwell will be given a chance as a left-handed reliever. We acquired him from the Cardinals. While we reuse Mike had a tough season last year, his arm is strong."

"Doug Capilla pitched for Tulsa last year and briefly for the Cardinals. He will be given an opportunity to battle for one of the relief spots."

"Bill Caudill had a good season last year and finished strong in the Dominican League last winter. I've seen very good reports on him."

"John D'Acquisto has great ability, but he had an unfortunate year in San Francisco. He was coming off an elbow operation and never did reach the point where he was consistent. I think John will be a fine addition to our pitching staff."

"John Denny was the earned run average leader last year in the National League (with a 2.45 ERA) and was one of the mainstays of our starting staff.

"Larry Dieker will be starting his 12th season in the National League and we're looking forward to having Larry on our staff. He's a veteran with all the way from the manager on down to the 25th player, the coaches, the trainer, the entire organization."

"I think this year will be one of total commitment in the direction of trying to develop a championship unit."

"I'm pleased to be manager of the Cardinals and happy that I was able to put together a fine group of coaches."

Susan Pence received two silver second-place medals for 50-yard freestyle and 50-yard backstroke.

Those participating from Granite City were Leslie and Shawn Allen, Mary Barnett, Kim Basore, Jerry Birchler, Mary and Stephanie Brandt, Cindy, Lori and Susan Bridick, Tom Buente, Carole Busch, Denise Darnell, Angela Grapas, Laura and Michelle Jenness, Don McAllister, Michael McCormick, Susan Pence, Wendy and Jeff Welborn and Coach Herb Reisinger.

The next YMCA meet will be at Lewis and Clark Community College Saturday, Feb. 19. A district meet will be held in Edwardsville Saturday and Sunday, March 5 and 6.

St. Louis U. beats Cougars

Some great basketball players have displayed their skills on the aging floor of Kiel Auditorium, but none captured the imagination or excited the fans any more than did little (5-9) Kei Peebles, point guard for SIUE, as he nearly single-handedly played St. Louis University to almost a standoff Monday night.

Peebles and his SIUE teammates finally succeeded to the Bulls 60-51, but it was still a cliff-hanger at 6:10 to go and the score tied 41-41 — on a jump by none other than Peebles.

Hitting on 10 of 20 shots, Peebles outshined the Bulls' publicized freshman, Johnnie Parker, who was held to 12 points by the stingy SIUE.

The loss dropped Coach Jim Dudley's Cougars to 7-11 and upped the struggling St. Louis U. leaders of the prestigious Metro Conference to a 4-14 record.

The Cougars lost the game at the free throw line as they hit on three of only four chances while the Bulls were cashing in 41 of 51 charity efforts from the floor, the Cougars had a one-goal advantage, 24-23, and both teams managed to put up the same number of shots, 52.

Tonight, the Cougars play the high-scoring McKendree College Bearcats at Edwardsville High.

Girls' soccer teams to confer

The 1977 soccer season schedule will be the topic Tuesday, Feb. 15, during a 7 p.m. meeting of the Madison County Girls' Soccer Association to be held at St. John's United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Bob York, association president, invites representatives of teams and the general public to attend.

He notes that additional 74-year-old age group teams are needed to round out the playing schedule.

Representatives of teams wanting to compete in the group may contact York at 877-1142 for additional information.

Gibault quintet a Waterloo for Devils

Waterloo, Gibault's ability to plug up the inside lanes and wade off scoring attempts enabled it to stop Venice on the Red Devils' court here Tuesday night, 67-41.

Venice played without the services of Anthony Wise, a 5-9 sophomore who has consistently scored in double figures this season. He suffered broken fingers in a non-game activity.

The hosts trailed 20-5, 33-15 and 49-27 at the quarters.

Venice was able to break Gibault's defense and get the ball to Frank Pace under the basket on occasion in the first period, but the Red Devils made only two field goals in 10 attempts in that period.

Venice pulled down 14 rebounds in the second period and hit on five of 17 goal attempts.

Reggie Mathis, a 5-6 sophomore, began to hit and provided 17 points in the game.

Venice meshed six of 15 shots in the third quarter, and five of 19 in the final period.

Gibault held the edge from the floor, 26-18, and in the charity stripe, 15-8.

Venice committed the most fouls, 17-14, and pulled down 33 rebounds. Pace and Don Gardner each recovered nine rebounds.

Adding to the 17 points scored by Reggie Mathis were Rick Jones, Don Gardner and Pace six each, Derek Mathis four, and Victor Mitchell, two.

GC ice Bruins in title chase

The Granite City Bruins resume their chase for the 1976-77 Madison-St. Clair Counties Junior Ice Hockey League title Saturday at the Wilson Park ice rink in a 10 p.m. contest with Metro.

League-leading O'Fallon, 11-2 record, starts this weekend's competition at 10:30 p.m. tomorrow against Collinsville.

Following the Bruins-Metro clash Saturday, Wood River and Alton will play here at 11:30 p.m.

Trailing O'Fallon in the standings are Granite City 10-2, Wood River 7-5-1, Alton 6-5-2, Metro 2-11 and Collinsville 1-12.

The squads attacked their current marks following competition during the past weekend in which Granite City beat Wood River 3-2, O'Fallon defeated Metro 6-1 and Alton beat Collinsville 3-1.

PACKAGING PROCESS INSPECTED. Two new members of the board of directors of OATH Inc., 612 State St., Madison, inspect a new packaging process being operated by clients of the workshop. Mgr. Lawrence Mattingly, second from right, is the new president, and Henry Baucum, right, a newly-elected member of the board. At left is the director of the workshop, Dennis LaMocca, testing a heat-sealing machine. The packaging machine is used to weigh two-ounce bags of aluminum "shot" used by Granite City for degasification of steel. The "shot" is supplied by another National Steel subsidiary in Kentucky. Clients load the bags to be filled, heat-seal the bags and finally box the bags in 50-pound quantities to be shipped to the local steel firm.

Robberies said. Their arrests followed. Two of those boys are 15. The other is 16.

All four have been charged with armed robbery.

Madison officers said that at 4:30 p.m. Monday, Tina L. Vaughn, 2029 Sixth Street, Madison, was robbed as she was getting in a car at Third Street and Alton Avenue. She reported a youth pointed a pistol at her and said:

"Don't say a word or I'll shoot you." The youth with a gun and two other boys took her purse and fled running toward Garces Homes.

Mary Layton, 1871 Edwardsville Road, reported that two boys, one of them with a small caliber pistol, robbed her at 8:10 p.m. Monday as she was getting in her car in front of the Madison Junior High School following a band concert. They took her purse containing $2 in currency, car keys and a credit card that led to the arrest of the first boy.

Police said that the boys also are allegedly involved in the Dec. 15 armed robbery of Dewey Smith, Dupont, Ill., in the alley at 1665 Market St., in which one youth, armed with a pistol, took Smith's wallet, $10 cash, credit card and personal papers, and the Feb. 3 armed robbery of Sandra Pomphrey, 612 Lincoln Ave., Venice.

In that robbery, two youths, one of them armed with a .22 caliber pistol, took her purse containing $40 cash, charge cards, keys and check book and fled east on Market Street. The holdup occurred in the 1500 block of Market Street.

Police said the boys also are charged in the attempted robbery of Wayne Rogers, 855 Alton Ave., at 6:45 p.m. on Feb. 3 at Third Street and Madison Avenue. Rogers reported two youths were hiding in his car and when he opened the door one of them held a gun on him.

Rogers said he called for help and the boys ran toward Third and State streets. The youths are being held in the Madison County detention home in Edwardsville.

Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority, issued the following statement after Robinson's announcement yesterday.

"The action by the U.S. District Court in Washington sustaining the Secretary of Transportation airport decision is highly significant.

"It means that approval of the Columbia-Waterloo site is consistent with the responsibilities of all three branches of the federal government.

"The Secretary of Transportation's decision it was emphasized that the department was acting in accordance with the very latest interpretations of the various laws passed by Congress.

"Missouri opponents, in their court challenge, contended that the department did not have the law on its side. Now the federal court has affirmed the department's decision, saying it complied fully with the various congressional acts governing the airport site question.

"While opponents have every right to appeal—and have said they will do so—the district court action clears the way for orderly progress in building a new major airport for St. Louis."

Labels

and industry discussed pros and cons of care labeling.

The FTC proposes to expand the labeling requirements to include carpets and rugs, suede and leather wearing apparel, household furnishings, yarn and such items not now included.

In general, removable care-label tags—for your own filing at home—would be required for items like rugs.

Items such as upholstered furniture would require tags to be permanently attached.

The FTC also wants clearer and more complete care information on the labels.

Manufacturers, to avoid testing or product liability, have at times been over-cautious in their instructions.

Often an item that can be washed under certain conditions is marked "dry clean only."

Consumers who could economize by washing object to that.

Bleach manufacturers suggested that terminology such as "no chlorine bleach" be used instead of "no bleach."

There is a difference between chlorine bleach and the non-chlorine bleach.

Up to the time of the conference, the FTC reported that more than 50 per cent of public comments about care labeling indicated that present labels were considered inaccurate by consumers.

A large majority of the comments also said cleaning information is often incomplete. And they also asked for labels on piece goods. As one who makes her own clothes, I couldn't agree with them more. I'm happy to report that the conference generated better public understanding of the problems, and contributed toward a more informed Federal Trade Commission decision.

land acquisition during this fiscal year, because the Federal Aviation Authority, the branch of DOT which awards grants for airports, has not budgeted the Illinois airport in this fiscal year.

There is $4.5 million in state funds available to the airport authority which will be used to begin the land acquisition program and the relocation of persons affected by the airport construction during the remainder of this fiscal year, a spokesman said.

GC bowlers first in junior tourney

Bowling teams representing four area cities — Edwardsville, Fairmont City, Collinsville and Granite City — participated early this week in a Quad-Cities Junior Bowling Association tournament for boys and girls, age 19 and under, at Bowland Lanes, 5050 Nameoki Road.

Granite City teams took top honors in all six categories of competition. Four are from Bowland and two from Tri-Mor Bowl.

The rules called for three games of bowling, with the team knocking over the most pins taking first place.

Bantam girls from Bowland finished with 2,223 pins by members Christine Bertach, Michelle Bertach, Karen Hanks and Annie Puse. Bantam boys from Bowland had 2,302 pins — Vince Mitchell.

80 performers ready for halftime program

What do you do between the halves at a basketball game? The idea time usually present at the midpoint of this athletic event poses no problem these days for spectators at Granite City High School North.

For the past four seasons, the North pep band and "Steel City Belles" pom pon squad have been filling the time with special motion-to-music pom routines, especially choreographed and designed to add eye appeal to the break in game action which takes place between the halves.

This Friday night, the North Band and Steel City Belles will once again be joined by the combined Band and Rifle Squads at North, newly named the "North Guard," and together they will once again present a "full court, action filled" six-minute combined halftime show.

The game with Quincy Notre Dame is set for the Memorial Gymnasium.

The new format acts as a showcase for all three units of the band department, as they make their way through intricate drill and routine development intended to keep the audience dazzled.

The ever-changing patterns during spring sports activities. Rules state that a player could not score a goal unless he was on top of his mount.

South led at the conclusion of each eight-minute quarter and was ahead 14-12 with 25 seconds to play when Terry Tessary, a North Faculty member, took the ball and threatened to change the game. But his efforts to get the donkey he was riding to move near the net failed.

South's Rick Fernandez topped all scorers with six points.

Trojan scoring surge crushes St. Louis five

Leading by an eight-point margin with 4:17 remaining in the final quarter Tuesday night in the Trojan gymnasium, Madison High School cagers put 18 straight points on the scoreboard to command a 26-point lead enroute to defeating the McKinley High School Goldbugs of St. Louis, 96-67.

The win was the 18th of the 1976-77 season against three losses for Coach Larry Graham's Trojans. McKinley now has a 1-14 record.

Madison dominated the action from the floor, making 40 field goals in 81 attempts compared to McKinley's 29 to 72.

From the foul line, the Trojans made 16 charity tosses in 30 tries and the St. Louis squad nine of 17. McKinley committed the most fouls, 22-16, and made the most turnovers, 26-24.

Madison controlled the boards, 51-34.

The Trojans led 23-20, 50-35 and 65-46 at the quarters.

Madison jumped out in front 9-0 in the opening two minutes as Randall Jones provided three points on a basket and a charity toss, followed by field goals by Ron Williams, Anthony King and Ron Morris.

McKinley put the ball through the net twice for a 9-4 Madison lead, but then fell further behind as Jones provided three baskets in a row. The Trojans went up by nine, 19-10, with 3:38 left on baskets by Jones and King, but a seven-point scoring spree by the Goldbugs closed the gap to two points with 2:47 remaining.

King and Jones both hit two-pointers to maintain Madison's edge.

McKinley hit a field goal to start the second quarter to trail by one, 23-22, but two straight baskets by Ron Williams and two more by Morris and a free throw Rodney Davis put Madison six points ahead, 28-22, and the Trojans were never caught by the visitors.

The Goldbugs made five straight baskets in the third quarter to narrow Madison's margin to one, 51-50.

Early enrollment contact with SIUE being urged

New students planning to attend summer and fall quarters at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville should apply for admission now, according to Eugene J. Magac, assistant director of admissions and records.

Magac said that students who apply early will get first chance at university housing, orientation programs and financial aid.

Since all new SIUE students enter the General Studies Division, many options for study are open to them. However, those high school seniors who apply early and receive notification of acceptance will have the first opportunity to sign up for the New Student Life orientation program at the university.

One advantage of participating in New Student Life is that students are allowed to register early for classes, he noted.

Students who have already chosen their field of study can declare a major, but most students prefer to wait until sampling courses in the General Studies curriculum.

Magac said high school seniors do not have to wait until they have their final class ranking to be admitted to the university. "We can admit students on their sixth or seventh semester rank," he said.

"Community college students can also apply and don't have to wait until they finish their last semester. They can apply on the grade-point average from their previous semester's work."

To be accepted as a student at SIUE, incoming freshmen have to rank in the upper half of their graduating class or have a composite ACT (American College Test) score of 19 or above.

Transfer students from community colleges or other universities must have a "C" average or better.

Students who do not meet all the requirements for fall quarter admission to SIUE can apply for conditional student standing in the summer quarter. This gives students who may not have done well in high school an opportunity to raise their grades and become fall quarter students at the university.

"I would encourage juniors in high school to take the upcoming ACT in April if after graduation they are considering coming to SIUE," Magac said.

"This will allow them to participate in our 'ACT-APP' admission program. They should contact their high school counselors for information on the test."

"We can use the information on the ACT report and build an admission file for the student without their having to complete the regular admission form. All they have to do is designate SIUE as a college choice on their ACT form and we'll take it from there," he said.

Admission and enrollment information is available at the Office of Admissions and Records, 692-2720.

Area Lions clubs to give free eye, diabetes tests Tuesday

One of the leading causes of blindness in Illinois will be dealt a serious blow Tuesday, Feb. 15, when the Lions mobile mobile glaucoma screening unit visits the Quad-cities.

Glaucoma is a symptomatic disease in its early stages, but one whose progress towards blindness can be halted through early detection and treatment. Glaucoma is most prevalent among adults.

The tests will be given free of charge, from 9 a.m. to noon in the unit, which will be parked in the parking lot at Galsight Plaza Shopping Center, 4010 Pontoon Road, in Pontoon Beach.

The unit, then will move onto the parking lot at Schermer's Super Market, 1127 Madison Ave., in Madison, from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Staffing the unit will be local Lions and volunteers and licensed medical personnel to do the actual screening. Staffing is done by the Lions of Illinois Foundation and assisted by the University of Illinois, Department of Ophthalmology, Richard McIntosh, sight conservation chairman for the Pontoon Beach Lions Club, and Tony Anselmo, sight conservation chairman for the Madison Lions.

McIntosh announced that any senior citizens in the Pontoon Beach area, in need of transportation, may phone the Pontoon Beach Police Department (931-0738) on the day of the screening between 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. The Pontoon Beach will provide transportation for the senior citizens in the community.

No appointments are necessary for the test, which takes only a few minutes and is painless. In the test, a measuring instrument is placed on the eye to record the fluid pressure in the eyeball. An elevated pressure might mean glaucoma, or it might mean something else. Persons with an elevated pressure are referred to doctors for a complete check up.

Since the unit began its work in 1969, more than 200,000 Illinois residents have been screened. More than 1,400 people have been found to have glaucoma in various stages of the disease, and as a result, have been able to undergo treatment necessary to preserve sight.

The Lions Club announced that screening test for visual acuity also will be given. For the first time diabetes testing also will be available in the Lions Mobile Unit.

"The reason the Foundation has just added a diabetes test, Donald D. Patrick, Pontoon Beach Lions Club president said, 'is because of the alarming increases nationally and locally in diabetic retinopathy, a disease of the eye which is now the principal cause of blindness in diabetics.'"

The diabetes test, like the glaucoma and visual acuity test, only take a couple of minutes. All that is involved is drawing a single drop of blood from the subject's finger with a dextrostix, and processing the sample in a small diagnostic device called a eyone reflectance colorimeter. In a matter of seconds, the device determines the blood sugar level of the sample, indicating either the presence or absence of a potentially diabetic condition.

Special voter registration this weekend

Three special voter registration sessions will be held in the Quad-City area Friday and Saturday to register residents for city, village, park and township elections in April.

Residents not already registered may do so Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Schnuck's Food Store in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, or at American National Bank from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Friday.

Another registration session will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at the E&L Quick Stop, 5527 Maryville Road.

"Considering how serious glaucoma and diabetes can be if they are not detected in their early stages, this is a rare opportunity to safeguard your eyesight," said Richard Bright, Madison Lions Club president. The Lions mobile glaucoma screening unit is being hosted by the Madison, Granite City and Pontoon Beach Lions Club.

The Lions of Illinois Foundation is a non-profit organization that relies on the contributions of local Lions Clubs, individuals, and businesses to finance various projects and programs for the visually handicapped. The Foundation is recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as a tax exempt group. Foundation offices are located at 1515 North Harlem Ave., Oak Park, Illinois 60302.

All tests offered on the Lions of Illinois Foundation's mobile screening unit are free of charge.

QUAD-CITY LIONS discuss final plans for the Lions mobile glaucoma screening unit's visit in the area. The free screening unit will be here Tuesday, Feb. 15, from 9 a.m. until noon in the Galsight Plaza Shopping Center, 4010 Pontoon Road, and from 1:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. at Schermer Brother's Super Market, 1127 Madison Ave., Madison. From left, Richard Bright, president of the Madison Lions; Tony Anselmo, sight conservation chairman of the Madison club; Jim Riskovsky, district lieutenant governor; Mike Briggs, vice-president of the Pontoon Beach club; Don Patrick, president of the Pontoon Beach club, and Harley Davis, president of the Granite City Lions.

MCKENDREE TO CREATE INSTITUTE FOR JUSTICE

Formation of an Institute for the Administration of Justice at McKendree College was approved during the weekend by the school's Board of Trustees and work will begin immediately on a four-year law enforcement curriculum at the Lebanon campus.

McKendree College has been offering only junior and senior level courses in administration of justice since the major was established in October 1975. Due to "overwhelming response," it will expand the curriculum for police officers and law enforcement students.

Some future prices on green coffee have sold as high as $2.30 a pound.

"Green" coffee is roasted and ground to become the stuff sold in Super Markets.

Figuring processing and other costs of nearly 90¢ a pound, $2.30 green coffee becomes almost $3.20 wholesale. Whatever profit grocers get must be added to that.

BISHOP TO SPEAK AT MCKENDREE BANQUET

The Rev. Leroy C. Hodapp, bishop of the United Methodist Church of the Illinois area, will be the keynote speaker at McKendree College's eighth annual appreciation dinner Saturday, Feb. 19, at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville. Rev. Hodapp, who assumed his duties as bishop of the Central and Southern Illinois districts on Sept. 1, 1976, had been co-director of the Southern Indiana Conference from 1970 until his appointment.

The appreciation dinner, scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m., is McKendree College's annual community event and commemorates the founding of the institution on Feb. 20, 1828. The oldest college in Illinois - and the oldest in the nation with continuous ties with the United Methodist Church - McKendree was established initially as the Lebanon Seminary, later being named after Bishop William McKendree who donated the land on which the college stands.

MR. AND MRS. HERMAN MILLER III. They were married in an evening ceremony at Calvary Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Michelle Lynette Edwards, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards, 4704 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Miller-Edwards wedding at Calvary Baptist

The wedding of Miss Michelle Lynette Edwards, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards, 4704 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Herman H. Miller III, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Miller, 2177 Barn Ave., was solemnized on Dec. 11 at Calvary Baptist Church.

The Rev. Al Slayter performed a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. before an altar adorned with baskets of white and lavender carnations and lilies.

Organist Brenda Bivens accompanied Rhonda Binkley as she sang, "We've Only Just Begun" and other nuptial selections.

For her wedding the bride chose a long white organza gown fashioned with a tucked Empire bodice accented with lace trim which formed the high neckline and trimmed the long sheer sleeves and ruffled cuffs.

She wore a chapel length veil of bridal illusion bordered with lace trim and she held a bouquet of white carnations, lavender mums and white baby's breath. Matron of honor Mrs. Rebecca Carpenter, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Sue Edwards, the bride's sister-in-law and Mrs. Julie Kubenel, selected identical formal length dresses in lavender organza.

Lavender lace trimmed the long sleeves and a matching satin ribbon defined the high ruse waistlines.

Each attendant wore a lavender nose-tip veil and held an arrangement of white and lavender carnations interspersed with baby's breath.

The flower girl, Tina Aubushon, a niece of the groom, was dressed in a white lace over satin frock featuring short puff sleeves. She carried a white wicker basket filled with red rose petals.

JAMES Aubushon, a nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer. The groom chose his brother, Wayne Miller, as best man.

Steve Edwards, a brother of the bride, and Gene Brominski, the groom's brother-in-law, served as groomsmen and ushers.

Phyllis Miller attended the guest book at a reception held in the church fellowship hall.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High Schools. The bride is a sophomore student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the groom is employed at Universal Towing Co., St. Louis.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Miller are residing in Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL J. BONK whose wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church. Formerly Miss Vicki Lynn Young, the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Marilyn Holland of Solon Springs, Wis., and Grover Young of St. Louis.

Vicki Lynn Young and Paul Joseph Bonk wed

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison, was the scene of the wedding on Jan. 15 of Miss Vicki Lynn Young and Paul Joseph Bonk.

Wicker baskets holding arrangements of pink carnations and red roses provided the setting of the double ring ceremony performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by Father Ralph Scherrer.

Nuptial selections included, "Sunrise, Sunset," "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and "Mother at Your Feet I'm Kneeling."

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Marilyn Holland, Solon Springs, Wis., and Grover Young of St. Louis. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bonk, reside at 804 Alton Ave., Madison.

For her wedding the bride chose a full length A-line style gown fashioned in white nylon over taffeta, featuring long sheer sleeves accented with Chantilly lace motifs and set into an Empire bodice. Chantilly lace appliques etched with pearls created the high stand-up collar and a bib style yoke.

A front panel on the slightly full skirt was edged with wide lace trim which also encircled the chapel train.

She wore a lace Juliet headpiece embellished with pearls to secure a lace bordered mantilla veil of bridal illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of pink carnations, red roses and baby's breath.

Maid of honor Miss Bonnie Fisk and bridesmaids, Miss Wanda Slater, Miss Becky Gibbs, Mrs. Nancy Stimac and Miss Judy Bonk, wore identical gowns.

Their formal length A-line dresses were designed with red velvet Empire bodices and pink polyester skirts. White lace defined the high rise waistlines and enhanced the high necklines. The long straight sleeves terminated at the wrists with pink polyester trumpet style cuffs.

Each attendant held a white fur muff with a cluster of pink carnations, red roses and baby's breath attached.

The flower girl, Kim Smith, was dressed in a long dress similar to the adult attendants and she held a basket of rose petals.

John Bulva attended the groom as best man. Rich Bury, Anthony Stimac, Marty Bonk and Philip Gordon served as groomsmen.

Tommy Eilers and Kenny Bonk escorted the guests to their seats.

The mother of the bride chose a floor length pink polyester gown created with long sleeves and the groom's mother, appeared in an aqua chiffon full length dress with long sleeves complemented with a matching cape.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Polish Hall in Madison.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Venice High School and is employed at Ervay's Restaurant. A 1973 graduate of Assumption High School, the groom is working as a carpenter.

They are residing in Madison.

Clark named to Bi-State Agency post

Donald E. Clark, executive director of the St. Louis County Municipal League, has been named director of administration and finance for the Bi-State Development Agency effective March 7. It was announced this week by Bi-State Chairman Paul Schuler and Bi-State Executive Director Robert J. Baer.

Clark will supervise the agency's program development, public information, fiscal management and personnel functions.

Born in Mt. Sterling, Ill., he holds BS and MS degrees from the University of Illinois, where he majored in municipal park and recreation administration. He received additional financial and managerial training through the International City Managers Association.

Prior to joining the County Municipal League in 1971, Clark served for seven years as director of community services and activities for Optimist International. He spent five years as director of parks and recreation for the City of Ferguson, Mo., and two years as parks and recreation director for the City of East Alton.

Clark is a member of the committee established under the order of the U.S. District Court to oversee merger of the Ferguson-Florissant, Berkeley and Kinloch school districts. He served for four years as a member of the Ferguson Planning Commission.

Clark is 45 years old and resides in Ferguson with his wife and two sons.

Baer cited Clark's management experience in the public sector in both Missouri and Illinois.

"I view this experience as extremely important to an agency that has jurisdiction in both states," Baer said. "His first-hand working knowledge of local government problems and extensive experience in dealing with local and state elected officials make him a valuable addition to the Bi-State management team."

Plea of innocent

Larry Turner, 21, of 1739 Edison Ave., pleaded innocent in court in Granite City Monday to theft and was released on a $250 recognizance bond by Associate Judge A. A. Matosian.

Turner's father, George Turner, 2126 Washington Ave., signed a complaint against him Sunday night alleging that while Larry was visiting his father's house, numerous prescription nerve pills were taken from a kitchen cabinet.

The event is scheduled at 9 p.m. Saturday at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant-Ballroom at East Alton.

Tickets and further information concerning the ball may be obtained by contacting the society's office at 528 Henry St., Alton, or by calling 1-465-7821.

Prior to the dancing, which is from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m., a patron's cocktail party will take place at the Ramada Inn in Alton from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., where patrons may meet a special guest, William Christopher, who portrays Father Mulcahy on the popular television series - MASH.

Patrons are those who make a $75 donation to the Cancer Society, which also entitles the donor to attend the ball.

Contribution to the dance is $30 per couple.

Special favors will be presented to each woman and a buffet will be served starting at 11 p.m.

All Illinois state offices will be closed Friday in honor of Lincoln's birthday. Madison County Courthouse offices also will close.

Public schools, banks, savings and loan firms, city and federal governmental offices including the post office, will maintain normal hours of operation and observe no special Lincoln holiday.

On Monday St. Joseph, Sacred Heart, St. Elizabeth and St. Margaret Mary parochial schools will be closed in honor of Lincoln.

St. Mary-St. Mark in Madison and Venice will hold school Monday, as well as all public schools.

Mrs. Kimmel named to university board

Appointment of Mrs. Carol K. Kimmel, 58, Rock Island, to the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees was announced Tuesday by Gov. James R. Thompson.

If the appointment is confirmed by the State Senate, Mrs. Kimmel will assume the board position currently held by Willis Moore of Carbondale.

The governor also announced reappointment of Harris Rowe of Jacksonville and William R. Norwood of Elk Grove Village to the SIU Board of Trustees.

All of the appointments are for six-year terms.

Mrs. Kimmel, national president of the Parent-Teacher Association, is a Republican. Rowe, vice-chairman of the board, also is a Republican and Norwood is a Democrat. The board is scheduled to elect officers for the coming year at the trustees' meeting today.

A native of Dongola and a graduate of Anna-Jonesboro High School, Mrs. Kimmel attended SIU at Carbondale and Bethel Women's College in Hopkinsville, Ky.

A former teacher, she has a long record of active association with elementary, secondary and higher education groups, including the Illinois School Problems Commission, the Board of Higher Education Task Force To Study Teacher Education, the Task Force for Governance of Higher Education and the White House Conference on Education.

Mrs. Kimmel was a founding member of the Illinois Citizens Education Council and she has been a member of the Urban School Problems Commission. She served as a member of the Rock Island Board of Education from 1962 to 1972 and was president the last two years of that span.

The terms of Moore, Rowe and Norwood expired last month. They have indicated they will continue to serve until the reappointments and replacement are confirmed by the Senate.

Mrs. Kimmel, who is recovering from recent surgery, will not attend this week's meeting. Moore was named to the board in 1974 to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Earl Walker, of Harrisburg, who resigned for health reasons.

Five Willow Walk cats competed in the 35th annual Greater St. Louis Cat Show held at the Electrical Worker's hall in St. Louis.

The event was a four-ring specialty show presided over by judges from Oregon, Kentucky, Texas and Ontario, Canada.

Short-haired cats were judged on a separate day to the long-haired variety.

Mrs. David D. Taylor of the Willow Walk Cattery, 148 Central Ave., Mitchell, showed three cats and a kitten in the long-haired classification.

Willow Walk Smokkopy, a black smoke Persian neuter, placed first and "Best of Color" in all four shows; and "Best Premier" in one show and second "Best Premier" in another.

The animal won a medalion and his owner received a one-year subscription to "Cat Magazine."

Another Willow Walk cat, a blue Persian neuter belonging to Mrs. Irene Zellman of St. Louis, also placed first in "Best Color" in all four shows; and "Best Premier" in the remaining shows.

Mrs. Taylor's own Champion Willow Walk Willie Boy and Champion Willow Walk Wilma Deanne both placed second in their respective classes in all four rings of the championship division.

In the Kitten class, Geraldine of Willow Walk placed second, and second in "Best of Color" in all four shows.

Despite inclement weather, the show drew an unusually large attendance, Mrs. Taylor said. A second championship show is planned in August at the Ramada Inn at Fenton, Mo.

More than 300 entries were registered at the St. Louis show.

CONCRETE FORMS ARE PREPARED by workmen before being placed in the Nameoki ditch near Highway 162. The forms are being used to construct reinforcing culverts near where Maryville Road and Highway 162 will intersect. The project, which will link the existing Maryville Road at Pontoon Road with Highway 162, is expected to relieve traffic congestion in the Nameoki area. This view is looking north along the ditch towards other project construction.

Venice accepts $361,480 grant

The Venice City Council at a special meeting Monday night accepted officially a $361,480 federal grant and gave Venice Mayor William M. Ebersold authority to execute it.

The city is to receive the funds under the 1976 Public Works Act.

According to the mayor, the money will be used to finance reconstruction of the east approach of the McKinley Bridge, including a new bridge deck.

Venice was the only municipality in the area to win approval of its request among Quad-City area taxing agencies who sought money for a number of public works programs.

New tuning system on display

A new electronic television tuning system has been announced by the Curtis Mathes Manufacturing Co. of Athens, Tex., and may be seen at Bert's Audio-TV Showroom, 1910 Delmar Ave.

Called SST, which stands for Selective Sensor Tuning, the system is totally electronic and has no moving parts.

A spokesman for the company said that this was the key factor in eliminating most of the breakdowns in television tuners which are commonly considered the most troublesome part of a television.

"Prior to SST," said Burke Mathes, president of the company, "TV tuners were mechanical with chunking dials and many parts that could break, wear out, or corrode. SST is 100 per cent electronic with absolutely no moving parts."

Channel selection is done by touching the sensor plate alongside the TV screen. The finger breaks a small electric current and the integrated circuit within the SST system completes the change, it was explained.

The viewer goes out so that each channel in the viewer's area can be individually picture-tuned. The viewer may even select the order of the channels, putting the most-viewed at the top. All VHF and UHF channels are receivable, it was noted.

Found innocent

A jury in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville has returned a verdict finding Tommy Hughes, 2717 Roosevelt St., innocent of burglary. He had been charged with entering an auto parked in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue.

Tooth decay a worry even for young children

This is the second in a series of six articles on dental health, published by the Press-Record in cooperation with the Madison District Dental Society, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 6-12.

"My neighbor has told me about her little girl's dental problem, called nursing-bottle mouth. How can I make sure my baby doesn't have it?"

Dr. Henry Elebach, specialist in dentistry for children replies: "When a child has 'nursing bottle mouth,' the teeth will literally have decay to the gumline. Even two- and three-year-old children can have this problem."

The culprit is that comforting bottle of fruit juice or formula given at bedtime.

From the moment a child's teeth begin to appear—at approximately six months of age—they are susceptible to decay.

When sugary liquids are taken in the bottle, the bacterial plaque that forms continuously on everyone's teeth combines to form acids that attack the enamel of the teeth. Continued, frequent acid attacks eventually cause tooth decay.

When a child is awake, the saliva washes much of the sugar and acid out of the mouth. At night, however, saliva production is decreased, allowing the decay acids to remain longer on the teeth.

It is important to avoid fruit juices, formula and soft drinks in the baby's bedtime bottle. Even milk when left in the mouth while the baby is sleeping can cause decay. The sugar can be a serious threat to a baby's teeth.

The longer a child is given a bedtime bottle, the greater the damage to the teeth. If the child must have a bottle at bedtime, fill it with water.

4010 PONTOON RD., Granite City, Ill.

Two careers for governor's wife

By FRANK BERNARD

You have an appointment to meet the new first lady of Illinois, Jayne Carr Thompson, 30.

You wait a moment in the outer office of the criminal division of the Illinois attorney general, expecting the receptionist to show you in and a secretary or two to greet you and take you into the inner sanctum.

But no, that's not the way it goes.

The door flies open and a tall, slender figure rushes through, hand outstretched in greeting, a quick smile lighting up her face as she says, "Hello, sorry I'm late. I was in a staff meeting."

She's all of a minute and a half late.

"Do you want coffee?" she asks, and then disappears and returns in a flash, carrying two steaming cups herself.

No secretary hovering nearby to wait on her.

Just Jayne, friendly, courteous and direct.

She's dressed in a tailored gray suit with a coral bow-tie blouse, a small diamond pin on her lapel. Little heels on plain pumps.

Her office, nondescript. A working office.

The only personal touch a picture on her desk of her husband, Gov. James R. Thompson, smiling right in her direction. But she's still a bride of only six months, so that's understandable.

You notice a penciled note tacked on her office door, a reminder, she says smiling, of those last harried days of the campaign when her co-workers found their chief almost too worn out to function.

"King Lear Revisited," it's entitled.

Come hither, Friend, Where is the Chief, my master?

Here, sir; but trouble her not; Her wits are gone. She'll be an unusual First Lady.

When Jayne Carr Thompson attended the inauguration of her husband, she was present as a personage in her own right, not just as the wife of the governor.

At age 30, she already has

made for herself an impressive record in law enforcement.

She has practiced criminal law for seven years as an assistant attorney general in the Chicago office of Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott.

She was appointed deputy chief of the Criminal Justice Division in August.

Her career has taken her before the appellate courts and the Supreme Court of Illinois, as well as before the Supreme Court of the United States, where she presented briefs and argued a case.

She has tried major criminal cases for state's attorneys throughout the state, winning some and losing some, but always winning the respect of reporters and jurists alike for her professional competence.

She has no intention of giving up her career.

She is instead the first first lady of Illinois to work full time at a job outside the mansion.

She will undertake a dual role and a demanding role in the next few years, assuming the obligations and responsibilities expected of her as wife of the governor and official hostess of the Executive Mansion, and also pursuing her own career.

She's confident she can handle it.

And she's excited about moving to Springfield.

She was transferred from the Chicago office of the attorney general to the Springfield office, just two blocks from the mansion.

"This is the first job I've ever had where I can walk to work," she exclaims.

She's worked since she was 15, doing part-time jobs in high school and college to help put herself through school.

She was born and grew up in Oak Park, where her mother, Laurette, still lives in the family home and her younger sister, Linda Kowalski, lives with her seven-year-old daughter, Kimberly. Her father, Robert E. Carr, drove a gasoline truck. "He was a very kind and affable man who loved children," she says. He died when Jayne was 13, so her mother went to work for a restaurant equipment manufacturing company in Chicago and raised her two daughters alone.

Jayne's first job was doing research for the village manager of Oak Park.

"I was always interested in American history and government," she says. "I loved to read, and still do."

In college, she undertook a long series of secretarial jobs. She had taken typing in school but not shorthand, "something some of my bosses never did find out—I had a great facility for writing fast."

She attended the University of Illinois at Champaign her freshman year, and then the Chicago Circle campus, receiving a B.A. degree in political science in 1967.

She entered Northwestern University Law School that fall and the following summer worked as a law clerk for the Cook County State's Attorney's office.

The summer between her second and third year of law school and all during her third year, she clerked in the office of Attorney General Scott.

After graduating from law school in 1970, she went with a large law firm in Chicago briefly, didn't find it particularly to her liking and so came back as an assistant attorney general for Scott.

Thompson was one of her professors at Northwestern University Law School.

"It's a small school, and you rapidly get to know everybody," she says.

She laughs and adds, "And he was a young professor..." The rest is history.

Port bulk terminal approval yesterday will benefit region

Governor James R. Thompson deserves praise for his prompt freeing of Illinois Capital Development Board funds for the Tri-City Regional Port District's planned $2,519,800 dry bulk terminal at the midpoint of the local harbor frontage. His authorization of the project yesterday afternoon will permit the state to issue a call within the next ten days for preparation and submission of construction bids. Advance engineering work already is complete. State Senator Sam Vadalabene and State Representative Everett G. Steele of this district were instrumental in the legislation and in consultation with the governor. Also active have been the Tri-City Port board headed by John N. Bellocq, the port district's administrative staff directed by Carl Rant and the port legal staff led by Randall Robertson. The project will cost taxpayers nothing for bond principal because the bonds are to be retired by the local port over the next 15 years from proceeds of the new facility. The state will meet the interest costs but by this action will have helped generate much new tax-producing business and shipping activity. The new terminal will expedite outbound loading of grain and grain products as well as bulk materials, moving them from rail and truck lines onto barges.

Streamlined method for handling state arrest bond funds

Illinois state police are right in beginning to send all traffic ticket bond money directly to a special bank account rather than the Madison County circuit court. Regardless of precisely where the fault lay — troopers' procedures, clerical handling or postal problems — it was the only one of numerous traffic case accounts which encountered imbalances. Circuit Clerk Willard Portell concluded that every ticket reaching his office has been accounted for, but nevertheless ordered the procedural change. Some tickets apparently were written but never arrived, while motorists asked about their traffic charges in October and no related files could be found. Portell alerted state police and the chief circuit judge and studied ways to improve the security. The new bank procedure has worked well in other circuits where difficulty had been encountered in the tallying of state police bonds, usually amounting to $25 in cash.

Paper argues against campaign aid by labor, businessmen

Post-Dispatch comment — Chairmen of 15 major committees of the House of Representatives — men holding virtually invulnerable political positions in their home districts — took nearly $325,000 from special-interest groups to help finance their winning campaigns last November.

After clearing their books, they wound up with a collective surplus of more than $278,000 — averaging almost $20,000 apiece — that they can use as they please, including pocketing it. Among them was Representative Melvin Price of East St. Louis, chairman of the Armed Services Committee. Among the others were Ullman of Ways and Means, Udall of Interior, Rodino of Judiciary, Reuss of Banking, Delaney of Rules, Giamo of Budget, Foley of Agriculture and Mahon of Appropriations.

The figures, gathered by The New York Times and Common Cause, the citizens' lobby, are distressingly similar to an earlier finding that all the senior Senate Democrats were caught up in this same unhappy ethical pattern.

The senators raised far more money than the House chairmen; but the labor, business and other special-interest contributions amounted to about 60 per cent of the cash spent by the House chairmen compared to 20 per cent in the Senate. That is, the interest groups came far closer to owning the chairmen in the House than they did in the Senate.

Another study showed that the House leadership on both sides of the aisle was substantially indebted to political action committees run by unions, corporations and industrial groups.

The pervasive influence of special-interest money at the pressure points of Congress is as intolerable as its cure is clear. Congressional elections will have to be financed out of the public treasury, as was the Carter-Ford contest for the presidency. There is more than enough money in the fund amassed out of the $1 check-off listed on personal income tax forms to handle both the presidential and congressional campaigns in 1980 and permit the voters enough for the off-year races of 1978. And if there is a shortage, it can be offset with general revenue.

The trouble with special-interest financing is its potential for producing special-interest legislation. Surely the country has had a belly full of that.

Jobless pay use, abuse

By RICHARD L. LESHER
President

U.S. Chamber of Commerce
For many of the unemployed, the only way out of work because of natural gas shortages, the plunge into financial disaster will be halted by a safety net called unemployment compensation.

Regular UIC checks will help pay the bills until the crisis is over and the breadwinners can return to work.

That's the unemployment compensation system at its best, doing what it was set up to do.

Unfortunately, some prominent members of Congress are using the widespread layoffs as an excuse to push legislation which will do nothing to help the recently unemployed and may well encourage growing abuse of the system.

To understand why, a little background is helpful. Unemployment compensation is more like insurance than welfare. You can think of it as a "policy" that is purchased by employers.

It is designed to provide a financial cushion for an able-bodied worker who is temporarily unemployed through no fault of his (or her) own. Consequently, the original limit on benefits was 26 weeks, unless the program was established in 1935.

Over the years, the duration of benefits has been lengthened in a series of steps. The two most recent extensions were in response to the persistent high levels of unemployment we have been experiencing lately.

The maximum benefits period now is 39 weeks. The latest extension expires March 31, at which time the period of coverage will shrink to a maximum of 30 weeks, unless Congress renews the 65-week program.

It's time to ask a simple question before enacting another extension: Cui bono? Who benefits?

Certainly not the energy crisis unemployed. They will be back at work in a few weeks or months, at the most.

Of course, there are people who benefit from the 65-week program. Some examples:

The young man in Connecticut who admits he could work but prefers living at home with his parents and collecting unemployment compensation.

The auditor from Michigan who doesn't "want to be shut up inside at a desk any longer," but isn't working outside, either.

The man from New York who picks up his check at a Florida unemployment office, in his Cadillac.

A lot of people like these are discovering that with skillful manipulation, UIC can become a way of life. Many of them like to winter in Florida because not looking for a job is less than not looking for one back home where it's colder.

Repeated extensions of the benefits period encourage such abuse.

I'm not suggesting that everyone who has received extended benefits is deliberately cheating.

But those who have been unable to find work for over a year need some other kind of help. Welfare, if they're unable to work. Retraining or relocation assistance if they are not suited to the available work in their area.

Not an I saying that a shorter benefits period will end all abuse of the system. Unemployment compensation can be misused in much less than 65 weeks. It is abused by strikers who collect while voluntarily out of work for their own gain, by some teachers on summer vacation; and by professional athletes, some of whom make their support money by collecting during the off-season.

But the point is, another benefit extension if they are more strain to an already overburdened program.

The state and local trust funds that support UIC are funded by a payroll tax on employers. The tax has been enough to cover the current heavy demands on benefits and the trust funds are empty.

Today's benefits are paid out money "loaned" to the system by the U.S. Treasury. But the Treasury itself has to borrow money.

There is enough money to help the short-term jobless without any Congressional action.

There is not enough money to create a new leisure class at the expense of those still working.

It is time for Congress to grasp that distinction.

Public wants services but opposes their cost

To the Editor:

Over the next two years, all of us in Illinois will face difficult state financial problems.

The continuing demands of people for government services and their simultaneous aversion to higher taxes are a difficult but necessary choice — by those in positions of public responsibility, and by those charged with informing the public of the decisions of the governmental leaders.

Government at every level must reassess its purposes, engage in careful planning, and make a dedicated effort to reduce waste of the taxpayers' dollars where such waste exists.

As the newly elected comptroller of the state of Illinois, I am pledged to such action both as it affects my own office and throughout state government as well.

During my recent campaign, I advocated a fiscal accountability program for Illinois. I now begin the process of implementing that program as a series of minimal first steps.

These and additional recommendations will constitute the foundation of my legislative program for this year.

It is my intention to be an active, visible and aggressive advocate for fiscal responsibility for the state. It is my sincere hope that I will be able to have your help and assistance in conveying the information pertaining to the taxpayers' dollars to them during my administration over the next two years.

After the initial period of intensive office organization, over, I will embark on a series of statewide visits to offer briefings on the current Illinois fiscal conditions and the prospects for the immediate future.

I would like to establish from the beginning that I do not view my role as comptroller to be one of antagonist to Governor Thompson.

The fiscal problems of the state are real, and it is my sincere hope that the governor will call on me as a partner in bringing forth solutions.

This does not mean that we will have to make unpopular decisions or programs, or that I will hesitate to speak out when I believe he is wrong.

I will speak out, and I will be offering my own fiscal programs. But I will also not be offering my own fiscal programs. But I will also not be offering my own fiscal programs.

For whatever reason, many newspapers in Illinois have chosen to endorse me in the past election. Yet, I won in a year of strong Republicanism in Illinois.

I believe I did so, in part at least, because of a faith the voters of Illinois have had in my messages about government accountability for the taxpayers' dollars.

It is my sincere hope that I can earn that same trust and future support with the press of Illinois. I pledge to you an open office which seeks to be helpful in communicating with the people of Illinois.

Weather recalls pioneers' hardships

To the Editor:

Did that groundhog see his shadow? I don't have any connections with him, to determine what our weather will be for the next six weeks, but there is a cute rabbit that visits our backyard and I have been watching it.

All it ever does is hop across the yard, stopping occasionally to scratch behind its ear before he goes to the next yard.

Whether seeing his shadow will have anything to do with our coming weeks of remaining winter weather or not, I don't know. He is pretty cozy now that hunting season is over.

All he does is look around for any dog that might be looking for him.

With all that has happened to all of us in these past weeks while we have been gripped with the worst snowstorms and cold conditions in many, many years, we should all come out of this with a better appreciation of what we have in our homes that we daily take for granted — and of all those people out there who are working to make things easier for us.

The mail has been delivered to our houses each day by the carrier in weather that must have caused him great discomfort.

Our work crew has been working almost around the clock to continue services we take for granted. They have braved the weather to clear snow from our streets and yet not thanked for doing the best they could while hurrying to get to more serious problems.

The people who have CBs have learned to what extent they can be used during this crisis.

The persons who braved the cold weather and tried to go to work each day have relied heavily on the CB messages from police to cars to ambulances and to more work with very few mishaps on the roads. Used in a constructive way these CB radio outfits can be of unlimited value to us all.

The heat — even though we have cut it back to 65 degrees — should be greatly appreciated.

How many of us would make good pioneer type men and women if we had to go through our lives, after we have been used to having things — if we had to go back to carrying buckets of water from any distance just to make a pot of hot coffee or tea?

Could we stand the rigors of chopping our own wood to keep warm? I, for one, have stated many times I would make a very poor pioneer woman. I don't have the fortitude for it.

May we all get down on our knees and thank God that we have all worked to come through this winter and pray that God be with us, each and every man and woman of this world.

Says multiple offices impair service

To the Editor:

The withdrawal of area Representative Joe Lucco's controversial "double-dipping" bill is a great victory for the taxpayers of Illinois.

It would have authorized persons to hold township supervisor and county board posts at the same time. It would have enabled individuals to hold both jobs and receive salaries from both in areas where townships and municipalities are one governmental unit.

I am really pleased that Lucco finally recognized what bad piece of legislation this was that he introduced. Taxpayers are sick and tired of dual-job payoffs. To have given them a flag of legitimacy through this legislation would have been a real result to the people of Illinois.

There are only eleven communities in the entire state that would have been affected. Two of those communities are right here in Madison County. I recognized right away that Lucco was attempting to protect Francis Roberts in Alton and Nelson Hagner in Granite City through his legislation.

On Jan. 13, I learned that Lucco had introduced Bill 96. I immediately wrote to House Majority Whip Gerald Bradley and contacted Representatives Byers, Sharp, McPike, Steele and Skinner and expressed to them my feelings about what a disastrous situation this bill would have created.

I was making arrangements to go to Springfield and testify before the committee to urge them to defeat the legislation.

I was going to fight this bill all the way down to the wire. Had it passed, taxpayers of the state would have been big losers and certain not adequately served.

But it's the other way around now. My campaign is based on the fact that the people are no longer going to stand for politicians who double-dip at the taxpayers' expense. They will no longer stand for all the power to be held in the hands of one man. It is the very thing that the attorney general has ruled is a conflict of interest. Suppose you have a problem and seek help from your county board representative and that man fails to help you. The next step might be to approach your township supervisor. But, lo and behold, you find out they are one and the same. I am hoping through my campaign that we will be able to put politicians on notice that the people are going to hold them accountable. I am certain this is the message Rep. Lucco got when he realized how bad his bill was and withdrew it. I am going to watch closely to make certain they don't try to sneak it through another door. It is basic that the elected official is there to serve the people. A person cannot adequately serve the people when he is trying to serve in three or four elected posts, and the people are not adequately served when laws are passed to protect such persons.

Two sexes are separate and distinct

To the Editor:

In regard to a letter in The Forum Jan. 31, I would like to say this:

Talking about the Equal Rights Amendment, the letter said she thanks the Lord for more federal power being "forced down our throats." Well, I don't. The more the federal government sticks their nose into my business — and yours — the more that looks like Communism to me.

The writer also said the rape laws will not be abolished for sex crimes. That alone points out that we are two distinct separate sexes — and don't need an equal rights amendment at all.

Gas 'solution' costly to Illinoisans

To the Editor:

National disaster is something everyone accepts as a fact of life. It is a fact of life that the way it should be.

But not all disasters are the result of man-made nature. Some are man-made, or at least they are compounded by human error and mismanagement — and worst of all — apathy.

For Illinoisans, the present gas shortage is something less than a disaster. That's the disaster. That's the disaster.

Many years, and a whole lot of local dollars — yours and mine — have served to accommodate the devastating winter weather of this year.

Significant amounts of natural gas have been stored in reserve fields in this state for just such an emergency. In business circles, that's called planning ahead.

President Carter received authority to declare a national emergency under these emergency conditions to redistribute natural gas resources to areas of the country which are in critically short supply.

Like motherhood and apple pie, this authority and action is not only noble, but necessary. I think most people in Illinois would agree wholeheartedly.

However, there is an economic side to this coin that demands consideration, even though the heat of the emergency need is hotter than the proverbial blast furnace.

This emergency didn't occur in 15 minutes, and 15-minute solutions won't wear well in tomorrow's light of day, when the crisis has passed.

I believe that each and every one of us concedes that immediate action to alleviate the critical situation must be taken. Only the President of the United States holds the position to do that expediently.

It is proper that emergency authority has been vested in him by the Congress. Along with this power, however, goes the responsibility to ensure that local preparedness — Illinois — established at significant local expense, won't be turned into a penalty for looking ahead and doing something about it.

Diversion of natural gas to other parts of the nation will cause local consumers to dip into reserve supplies. The price for that diversion should be borne by those who failed to prepare adequately.

But it won't happen unless something is done at the presidential level to make it happen.

In his diversion authority, the President has been empowered to lift price controls at the wellhead. This too is an apparent necessity. But it will inevitably result in higher prices to replenish the storage facilities in the state of Illinois.

The time to amortize the investment which each consumer has made in this state's natural gas program, by paying higher monthly rates for a number of years, is when the need warrants the increased cost.

There is no purpose served in punishing those who are already hurting because of extreme natural conditions. But it is even less just, under a free enterprise system, to penalize the wise investments of yesterday by some of us, to compensate for the unpreparedness of others.

Pres. Carter has been authorized to manipulate assets to satisfy an emergency. He must also be enjoined to abide in the precepts of our constitution by ensuring that economic equity is an integral part of the action which he takes.

There is no doubt there is some degree of callousness in these words, which will not rub well on the main hands.

But it is high time the soft hands — and heads — in this country bore some callousness, so that those of us who have had calluses for years can take heart in the knowledge that ours were not worn there in vain.

New state philosophy —avoid overspending

Editor's Note: This article is one of a series which will appear periodically on the new Thompson administration's top posts.

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — Bob Mandeville says he'll direct the state's finances in much the same way he manages his family's money.

He doesn't like to spend his personal money on unnecessary things, and that will be his guiding philosophy as the next director of the Bureau of the Budget.

Mandeville, the new state budget director, ought to know a trick or two about handling the family budget — he's got eight children. But the family does splurge in one area — they have nine bicycles.

A bicycle enthusiast since the early 1960s, Mandeville can be seen many mornings pedaling to work from his home.

"I have only two rules," he says. "I don't ride if the temperature is below 32 degrees or if there is over a 50 per cent chance of rain."

His bicycling isn't restricted to city streets, however. With three of his children, he recently rode to Jacksonville and back. He's ridden to Pere Marquette

State Park and one time to St. Louis.

"You can do it with a little practice," he says. "Sure, you're never the next day, but there's no major problems."

The 14-hour trip to St. Louis was made with his oldest son, Mark, who has since given up his bicycle in favor of a car.

"You really learn the highways," Mandeville says, describing the little-traveled roads between here and St. Louis. "There's always one hot rod, but most of the motorists are nice. They might think we're a little nutty, but they're nice."

With all of the riding, you might expect Mandeville to have a fancy 10-speed model. He doesn't. He still rides a three-speed the employees of the Bureau gave him when he left as deputy director in 1973.

He added a basket in the front for his blouse and a baby seat in the back for Valerie, but she's now five years old and rides her own bicycle.

Mandeville takes the complicated state budget and explains it in a way easily understood by families.

"Suppose you earn $10,000 a year, but you like to maintain a standard of living which costs $12,000 a year. As long as you have a bank account, you can live off your savings to make up the difference. If you have only $2,000 in savings, you can live that way only one year."

"That's the way it is with the state, too. The state has spent more than it has taken in, and used up the balance."

Mandeville's articulate explanations of the state's finances have become required events for legislators, reporters and other students of state finance.

When Comptroller George Lindberg appointed Mandeville as his deputy, he gave him one rule: "When someone asks you a question, give them a straight answer."

Mandeville must have given some straight answers. The morning after the election, Gov.-elect James Thompson called Mandeville and asked him to be the budget director. Later, Michael Howlett said that if he had been elected he would have made the same appointment.

"I don't know," Mandeville says when asked about his party affiliation. "I think of myself as an independent. No one ever asked me that as a condition of my employment."

Officers reported a light coating of frozen mist on his front porch was believed responsible for the fall.

A native of Jacksonville, he was graduated from St. Louis University. After serving four years in the U.S. Air Force, he earned a doctorate from George Washington University (Washington, D.C.) in public controller-ship. Before joining state government, he worked for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in helping place the first man on the moon.

Although he's held a number of top positions in government, Mandeville says he's not interested in seeking of office himself.

By WILLIAM J. GOLDWAG, M.D.

"Q. For several years I have been suffering with pain in the side of my head. Sometimes it's in my ear and sometimes up my head. I have had all my teeth X-rayed, my sinuses checked out and even went to a neurologist because I thought I had a brain tumor. No one finds anything wrong with all the parts of me that are around that area. Now a friend told me she read about a thing called Temporomandibular Joint Syndrome that can cause this kind of trouble. Can you tell me what it is and what's more important, what you do about it?"

A. Temporomandibular Joint Syndrome is definitely too big a word to keep playing with so let's call it TMJ Syndrome. This is being recognized more now as a cause of facial pain.

If you put your finger just in front of your ear, and open and close your mouth, you'll feel the joint. You can also feel it if you put your finger inside the ear and move your jaw. This closeness to the ear and the rich network of nerve endings around the ear (if you've ever had an earache, you know how many nerves are there!) accounts for why the ear is so often thought to be the source when the joint gives trouble.

The common causes of the problem are a poor bite caused by loss of teeth, grinding the teeth at night or even a tightly clenched jaw due to everyday stress. This creates an uneven pressure on the TM joint on either side and may create extra wear and tear on the thin cartilage that separates the two bones in the joint.

The resulting pain can spread out along the trigeminal nerve that serves that area and pain may be felt as far away as the neck and shoulders. This can create further muscle spasms and postural derangements leading to secondary pressures in the spine, arms and legs. That's a lot of trouble to come out of a relatively small joint.

To distinguish the TMJ Syndrome from ear or tooth disorders is not always easy but generally when TMJ is

Arrest after tires slashed

John Teator, 48, of 2136 Grand Ave., was arrested at his home early today and was charged with a felony count of criminal damage to property.

Granite City Police Capt. Francis McManus alleged he heard a noise outside of his home at 2:55 a.m. today and looked out to see someone he alleged was Teator cutting all four tires on his car.

The man then walked to his car, which matched the description of Teator's auto, and left the scene, McManus said. McManus estimated damage at $350.

Five traffic deaths during January in Illinois State Police District 11, which includes the Quad-City area, was a reduction of five, or 50 per cent, below the 10 fatalities occurring during the same month a year ago.

The five fatalities last month occurred in four accidents, a police spokesman said.

A total of 45 persons died in traffic accidents in Illinois last month, a reduction of 40 from 85 fatalities in the same month a year ago, the spokesman said.

CHIEF VEIZER FALLS

Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for surgery today after falling in front of his house at 8:20 a.m., breaking bones in his left knee. Officers reported a light coating of frozen mist on his front porch was believed responsible for the fall.

The resulting pain can spread out along the trigeminal nerve that serves that area and pain may be felt as far away as the neck and shoulders. This can create further muscle spasms and postural derangements leading to secondary pressures in the spine, arms and legs.

That's a lot of trouble to come out of a relatively small joint.

Spotlight on Quad-City area's Catholic schools

"Catholic Schools Week: A Plus for America."

Utilizing this theme, Catholic schools in the Quad-Cities and across the nation are conducting a week of special activities Feb. 6-12.

Photographs on this page depict some of the varied instructional programs and facilities.

UPPER LEFT—Learning to listen at St. Margaret Mary School in Granite City. Second grade students are shown using headsets in order to hear specific stories told.

UPPER RIGHT—Science is an integral part of the curriculum at Catholic elementary schools here. In this scene at St. Elizabeth School in Granite City, the attention of all is focused on a scientific experiment. The instructor is Keith Scannell.

School meets at two formerly autonomous schools. St. Mary's in Madison and St. Mark's in Venice. First through sixth graders attend St. Mary's, and seventh and eighth grade students go to St. Mark's. These third graders, pictured at the Madison facilities, illustrate that the youngsters care about each other's activity.

right, are Laura Smolar, Kim Daugherty, Lisa Preloger and, reclining, Connie Williamson.

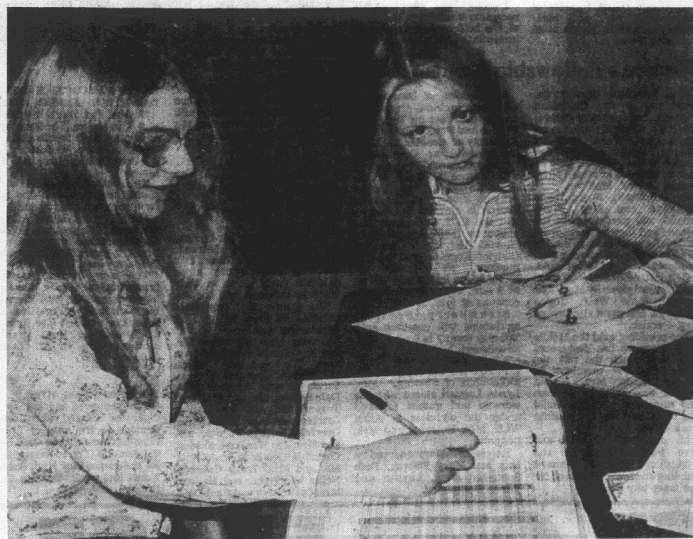

LOWER LEFT—Libraries receive emphasis in Quad-City parochial schools. Books help students "experience reality vicariously" and are regarded as an asset in use of leisure time. Reference materials pictured at St. Elizabeth School aid in preparation of research reports.

an Advent wreath. It is made of evergreen branches formed in a circle, with four candles placed in a square pattern to represent the four weeks before Christmas. The wreath symbolizes years of waiting for the Redeemer from the time of Adam, and also the second wait for Christ. Students participating in the blessing ceremony are, left to right, John Moore, Phillip Freuch, Laura DeGonia in back, Donna Wagner in front, Donna Haug, Christine Boyd, Terry McGauley and Joseph Nelson.

COOKIE MONSTER SALES are up as Lorie Buenger (left), chief cook and baker, and Pam Burnett, secretary-treasurer of the Cookie Monster Factory, check orders. The firm is a Thursday evening Junior Achievement company here sponsored by the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Company. The company sells a two-dozen box of chocolate chip cookies for $1.60. (Press-Record Photo)

FINAL TOUCHES are put on a heavy-duty barbecue pit manufactured by the BQ Smokers company. At left, Richard Buecker, vice-president of sales, places a grill over the pit. Tom Ebrecht, center, with the help of Cindy Powell, attaches a chain to the hinged top of the pit to provide easier access to the cooking area. The JA company is sponsored by Granite City Steel, which sponsors all four companies that meet on Wednesday evenings. (Press-Record Photo)

WOOF-CO OFFICERS CONFER. These officers of a Wednesday night Junior Achievement company here look over its books to check on member attendance, sales and profits to date. At far left, Treasurer Tami Vail points out earnings of the company to its president,

Schaus, John Williams and Linda Knobloch (right) work on various stages of the casting process. Many designs are offered by the student company. (Press-Record Photo)

'Moonlighting' subject to self-employment tax

For many, taxpaying is made easier by the fact that money is regularly withheld from earnings by employers and a W-2 form is provided at year's end, neatly summarizing earnings and taxes withheld.

But for self-employed persons and those who depend upon tips as a source of income, considerably more individual responsibility is required during the year.

"Self-employed" means more than regular fulltime business activities. It also covers certain parttime work, including what you do at home or on the side in addition to your regular work.

Every self-employed person who had net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more, whose earnings subject to Social Security taxes as an employee were less than $15,300 in 1976, must pay self-employment tax on part or all of his or her income to help finance Social Security benefits.

Schedule SE (Form 1040), "Computation of Social Security Self-Employment Tax," is used for this purpose.

Examples of sideline income usually subject to self-employment tax include: sewing and alterations; musicians' fees; contract labor; directors' fees; officiating at sporting events; construction work and bookkeeping.

Earnings from "moonlighting" are not tax-free just because they result from a lot of extra hours and no one is withholding part of those earnings for taxes.

This is when the responsibility factor comes into play. You must keep accurate records of your sideline earnings, report them, and pay any tax due.

For example, suppose you are a carpenter by day and work nights doing odd woodwork jobs to pick up some extra cash. You are your own boss in this situation and you are still obligated to pay your fair share of taxes, even though you have nobody supervising your work.

If you were planning on deducting the cost of having an office at home to reduce taxes on your added income, it's going to be more difficult than before, starting with the return you file for tax year 1976.

A new law limits deductions to only the part of your home that you use exclusively and regularly as your principal place of business, or as a place where you meet clients, patients or customers. What's more, your deductions can't come to more than the income produced in your office.

Tips are subject to federal income tax whether the money is received directly from customers or paid by the employer on behalf of charge customers. All tips are reported on line 9 of Form 1040 or 1040A.

In addition, cash tips of $20 or more than you receive in a month while working for the same employer are subject to withholding of income tax and Social Security. And, you must report those tips in writing to your employer by the tenth day of the following month.

IRS Form 4070, "Employee's Report of Tips to Employer," is a handy way to report. It indicates all the necessary information and is available free from your local IRS office.

Your bookkeeping during the year will be easier if you make less than $20 a month in tips—you don't have to report to your employer tips amounting to less than $20 a month, and such tips are not subject to social security taxes—but you do have to include them as gross income on your tax return.

In businesses where tipping is customary—restaurants, taxicabs, hotels, beauty salons, etc.—the nature of the work often makes it impractical to keep on-the-spot records of tips. So, you should make a point of totaling your tips at the end of each day, while you still have the money in hand and it's fresh in your mind, the Revenue Service says.

The IRS has a free tip record available to make things easier. It's Document 5635, "Employee's Daily Record of Tips (Form 4070A) and Employer's Report of Tips to Employer (Form 4070)," and is available at the nearest IRS office.

Another reminder for food service workers: Some clubs, restaurants and other facilities require customers to pay a service charge which is later distributed among waiters, waitresses and other staff. Your share of any such service charge is considered part of the wages paid by your employer and should not be reported as tip income.

Births higher, deaths decline during January

A total of 98 births in the Quad-City area during January was an increase of 22 over those of the same month of the 1976 year, according to a vital statistics report released by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

The report showed a total of 38 deaths last month, down from 44 in January 1976, and one fetal, up from none in January last year.

The 98 births last month were an increase of 15 over the 83 reported in the area during December, while January's 38 deaths were a decrease of 22 below the 60 occurring in December. There were no fetals in December.

UNDERCOATING—RALPH'S TEXACO ZND & MADISON AVE.

COLD WEATHER IS BARELY BAREABLE. Students at SIUE are bundling up since thermostats were turned down in compliance with SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw's plan "to conserve energy for the general welfare of the region." According to University Health Service, students and staff at SIUE can maintain their health in 64-degree temperature if they dress more warmly. But that causes a problem for the models in a life drawing class at SIUE. Until the energy crisis abates, or the spring thaw arrives, they may find modeling a chilling experience.

Home ownership problems cited

The problems of the American homeowner have a special claim on both public and private resources, according to President Kenneth A. Shaw of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He gave the opening address at a regional conference on campus entitled, "Helping Inner City Homeowners: Community Development Leveraging Programs and the Lending Institutions," sponsored by the university's Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services (CURES).

"For more than 30 years, the goal of a decent home for all Americans has been held up as a national commitment, and it is a commitment that is yet to be realized," President Shaw said.

"The incoming Carter administration has placed an emphasis on people problems, and while it has renewed the attack on the nation's social problems, it has also indicated a commitment to holding the reins on federal spending, an interesting combination."

"Especially where the problems of housing are concerned, we must realize that both of these purposes can be served only if the government defines fresh, cooperative relationships with the other institutions in our society—the family, the neighborhood, voluntary service organizations, the educational communities and the private sector," Shaw continued.

"Leveraging programs offer prime examples of this necessary cooperative and coordinating relationship."

"Looking to our own area, we can see that inner city neighborhoods offer the critical areas in which new roles are needed to explore and to be played out."

"This conference, critical as it is, is just one aspect of SIUE's regional outreach as we perform the services mission of this fine university. Our concerns run the gamut from cleaning up the air and water to enriching the minds and hearts of our constituencies."

James Bringley, of South Shore Bank in Chicago, said residents themselves should be extensively involved in rehabilitation programs, particularly since a significant objective of the programs is to commit people to stay on and upgrade their blocks and neighborhoods.

"As a result, it is also highly important to maintain a strong degree of personal contact between borrowers, lenders and community development staff members," he said.

B. J. Lopez, of the Mexico, Mo., community development director, stressed that loan repayment schedules must be flexible to fit the budgets of low and middle income families who lack sufficient monthly cash flow in order to sustain high monthly payments.

The community development director of Quincy, Don Niemann, emphasized that any ceiling on the individual amount to be loaned must be high enough to respond to "the many special circumstances of very different types of severely deteriorated homes."

The Philadelphia approach, as explained by Herbert E. Bowers of Philadelphia National Bank, is based on the lender's view of the central importance of the individual block, rather than that of the neighborhood as a whole.

"Lenders believe they can catch a block in the middle of its downward swing in value and force the 'bell curve' upward again," he said.

"Interviewers must be sensitized to individual needs, and loans should then be designed quite specifically to meet those needs."

In its first year, the Philadelphia Mortgage Plan closed $10 million in loans to 1,000 residents; it is presently processing $22 million more in loans.

Roy Oman, representing the Federal National Mortgage Association, outlined the FNMA experimental program designed to encourage banks and savings and loan institutions to invest more funds in mortgage and home improvement loans in transitional neighborhoods.

State regulatory agencies can have a major impact on neighborhood development patterns, it was asserted. Illinois Savings and Loan Commissioner Timothy Griffin outlined Chicago's new loan review panel program, which provides a second chance for those persons whose requests for loans have previously been rejected by their savings and loan institutions.

The panel's decisions, unlike decisions of similar panels in some other cities, are heavily weighted by the views of public interest representatives.

An appeal to the panel will result in an in-depth examination of the individual case, including consideration of those factors not always considered in the credit rating process. The panel, for example, recognized that public assistance recipients benefit from a steady stream of income.

If the panel chooses to reverse the initial rejection, it then finds a savings and loan institution to make the loan, Griffin said.

In summarizing the purposes of the conference, Mark Drucker, CURES research associate and the conference chairman, commented, "Given the scarcity of public funds in older communities, it's becoming increasingly necessary for administrators of programs helping homeowners to expand the availability of private capital through sound leveraging techniques."

"Redlining" problems ultimately will be worked out locally with 'carrots' as well as with federal and state 'sticks'.

"We hope that a conference like this will help community development officials to approach local lenders with a full bunch of carrots."

Dance honors candidates

More than $4,000 was raised by the Nameeki Township Women's League at a dance during the weekend in support of the Nameeki Township Continued Action Party.

The event was held in Christian Hall in Madison with Nick Nixon and his Country Soul Band offering music for dancing and entertainment.

Officials present included Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, State Representatives Joe Lucco and Jim McPhee, Granite City Alderman Glen Sprinkle, Chouteau Township Highway Commissioner James Estes and other members of the Chouteau Citizens' Party.

Candidates of the Continued Action Party introduced were:

Louis Whittell, incumbent supervisor; Louis "Cookie" Zeffoff Jr., town clerk candidate; Frank Meribek, highway commissioner candidate; Freida Ballew, tax collector candidate; Loren L. Madison, tax assessor candidate; Kenneth G. Gieson, incumbent trustee, and Harlan "Van" Pervan, Andy Besserman and Helen M. Hawkins, trustee candidates.

Whittell thanked the capacity crowd for attending the event and thanked members of the women's league for arranging the event and decorating the hall.

Congress is told 5 actions could ease future fuel crises

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

While voting almost en bloc for the emergency natural gas bill, Illinois Republicans in the House made sure Democrats took the rap for the crisis.

The lone holdout was Rep. Philip M. Crane, who rejected the "gimmickry" legislation as no solution.

Representing two-thirds of the three-man Republican leadership, House Minority Whip Robert H. Michel and Republican Conference Chairman John B. Anderson of Illinois supported the bill reluctantly.

The bill Congress finally sent to President Carter and which was signed empowers him to direct gas to areas where it is needed most for high-priority users — such as homes, hospitals and small businesses — and to prevent harm to property.

The Congressional consensus is that the bill is a short-term response to keep the crisis from worsening.

Republicans seized the occasion to go on the offensive against Democrats for refusing to deregulate the price of natural gas in the face of an ever-tightening energy crunch.

"Never before in the history of our country have so many suffered so much for the follies of the few," Michel declared.

The majority party will forever be linked with the disaster of the winter of 1976-1977.

In exchange for supporting the bill, Michel said Republicans "want something in return." He called on Democrats to support stepped-up coal recovery, tax incentives for voluntary conservation of energy, deregulation of natural gas prices, greater emphasis on research and development, and progress in nuclear energy.

Anderson also wanted Democrats to support the bill conditionally: "I am going to be saying 'I regretted you' if it is not done."

Calling it a "stop-gap" that is "better than nothing," Rep. Robert McCleary voted for the bill "with the expectation that Congress will at long last face up to the need to deregulate natural gas at its source and to increase supplies for our homes, schools and factories."

The bill "reintroduced his three-year-old bill to deregulate natural gas at the wellhead 'in order to stimulate production of natural gas so that next winter we need not go through this once again'."

Rep. Edward Derwinski said it was frustrating to support "patchwork" legislation but "the seriousness of the nationwide energy crisis dictates quick action, imperfect though it may be."

"It is my hope," Derwinski added, "that President Carter will live up to his campaign promise to deregulate newly discovered natural gas and proceed further to deregulate all domestic natural gas production."

Rep. John Moss, California Democrat, apparently wearying of the Republican assault, said people are suffering this winter not because Congress did not act but because "we have no control over the weather."

"They are in difficulty because the Almighty acted and gave us weather that no one expected," Moss said.

Now, the day that the House starts to legislate weather, the public will have something to fear.

Compensation, other factors blamed for state job downtrend

(Illinois Manufacturers' Association)

Since 1967, Illinois has lost 207,000 manufacturing jobs, according to figures of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Other figures, from the U.S. Department of Labor and U.S. Commerce Department confirm the trend, the Illinois Manufacturers' Association contended last week.

At a meeting with legislative correspondents in the state capital pressroom, the IMA summed up what it regards as reasons for the loss of manufacturing jobs and the deteriorating business climate in Illinois.

Among factors contributing to the deteriorating business climate are these, in the opinion of the IMA:

Taxation and state spending. According to a report from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Illinois ranks eighth highest in the 50 states and fourth highest among industrial states — in terms of per capita taxes.

Total corporate taxes, including corporate income, personal and real property taxes, considered in the report are high in Illinois. State spending has doubled in the past six years, paid for in part by huge increases (500 per cent since 1970) in state debt.

The combination of high state spending and rapidly rising debt point toward future tax increases, disturbing to the business climate.

Workmen's compensation. Illinois now has the most liberal for injured workers — and costly for employers.

The General Assembly should use its authority to deny to "home rule" governments such taxes as the counterproductive "head tax" of $3 per month per employee on Chicago employers.

(4) Reform the Illinois' workers' compensation insurance premium of $32,644 in 1976. If the identical plant were located ten miles to the east in Indiana, the comparable cost would be $91,347.

Unemployment compensation. Taxes on Illinois employers doubled, 1975-76, and will more than double again, 1976-77.

The Sundstrand Corporation of Rockford paid an unemployment compensation tax in 1975 of $114,822. In 1976, it was $232,259, and in 1977 it will be $772,637, using the same taxable payroll and despite a steady employment history.

Although high unemployment in Illinois accounts for much of this increase, Illinois costs are nonetheless out of line, the IMA asserts.

Energy. Illinois has seemingly turned its back on its coal resources.

Needlessly stringent environmental rules and the harsh, adversary posture of state pollution control agencies have cost Illinois manufacturing jobs and weakened the state's once-strong energy position.

Recommendations to improve the business climate of Illinois, which will be submitted to the 80th Illinois General Assembly in a series of bills and recommendations, include these key ideas:

(1) Retain the current constitution provision which limits the corporate income tax to a rate not greater than an 8 to 5 ratio with the personal income tax rate.

(2) Provide, as some states do, a broad exemption from the sales tax for purchases of machinery and equipment used in industrial production processes in Illinois.

(3) The General Assembly should use its authority to deny to "home rule" governments such taxes as the counterproductive "head tax" of $3 per month per employee on Chicago employers.

Bakalis sees 'less dismal' fund outlook

Comptroller Michael J. Bakalis, in his first monthly report since taking office, says the state's financial outlook for the rest of the fiscal year ending in June 1977 may not be as dismal as portrayed by Governor James R. Thompson.

Bakalis said, "There is reason to believe that if present trends continue over the next five months, the state could end the fiscal year with an available balance larger than anticipated. While forecasting is not as precise as we would like it to be, I believe there are signs that justify cautious optimism."

Hospital notes

Patients admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday: Clarence Hoffman, 2128 Bryan; Betty Ann Walker, 2122 Alton; Madison; Wallace Bono, 2229 Missouri; John Pellazari, 727 N. 26th; Vernon Patterson, 2114A Delmar; Kenneth Pecher, 4784 Namooki; Virginia Cottrell, Collinsville; Robert Modlin, Collinsville; Susie Doom, 2434 Benton.

Anna Mueyart, Belleville; Lawrence Ward, 211 Sunshores; Jane Jenkins, Washington Park; Sandra Kelley, 3846 Lake; Herbert Schannott, 2151 Waterman; Eleanor Cox, Brooklyn; Marcela Redmond, 306 Ash; Edward Reedy, 2928 Iowa; Alma Lipe, 3717 Ruth; Terry Clements, Brooklyn; Virginia Hillmer, 5 Shirlwin; Ethel Smith, Box 4864, Highway 162; Billy Johnson, 3205 Maryville; Virgie Bush, 904 Jackson; Madison; Mark Hunter, 3256 Rodger; James Roe, 2513 W. 24th; Julie Patton, 5113 Rapp; Trudene Black, 6 Robin Court; Marilyn Vandygiff, Jerseyville, Ill.; Thomas Ryan, 2211 Edison; Rachel Clutts, 1640 E. 23rd; Vincent Miskelley, 21 Tulip; Marjorie Grizzard, 2914 W. 20th; Derrin Yurek, 2219 State; Lloyd Judge, 2424 Waterman; Marie Ward, 1824 Wilson; Chaastly Heavlin, 2156A Washington; Tina Marie Taylor, 2239A Washington; Vern Cochran, 1316 Meridian; Brian McDonald, 820 Victory.

Bakalis noted that during the first seven months of the current fiscal year, total revenues credited to the General Revenue Fund were $59 million below the amount forecast by the Budget.

Total expenditures were $84 million below forecast and, as a consequence, the January month-end available balance of $115 million was $25 million above the forecast.

The Comptroller's report, required by statute each month, showed that the balance of $115 million in the state's "check-book" at the end of January was $91 million more than at the same time last year.

Bakalis said reasons for optimism include an extra $20 million in state sales tax revenue resulting from court approval of sales tax on the full purchase price of gas and oil. This was transferred Feb. 3 into the General Revenue Fund from a protest fund.

The new Federal Public Works Assistance Act will provide Illinois with $17 million this year. And earlier estimates of public aid deficiencies appear to have been high because of a decline in some of the caseloads, Bakalis said.

CHORALE TO TAKE PART IN CHURCH SERVICE

The SUE Concert Choral will take part in a solemn Pontifical High Mass at the Cathedral of St. Peter in Belleville Sunday at 7 p.m., according to Leonard Van Camp, director of choral activities at the university.

The Choral will be assisted by the SUE Wind Ensemble, directed by Carl St. Clair, director of bands. The musical setting of the ordinary of the Mass will be the "Mass in E Minor," by Anton Bruckner, Austrian composer. The Mass will be preceded by a concert by the Concert Choral, under the direction of Van Camp and guest conductor A. Dennis Sparger. Ed McKee will direct the brass ensemble. Organist for the service will be James Parisi, a student at SUE majoring in organ music.

Rendleman bronze bust unveiling

A bronze bust of former President John C. Rendleman of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be unveiled in a public ceremony Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 3 p.m. on the first floor of the Rendleman Building on the university campus.

Members of the immediate family will be present, and John S. Rendleman Jr. will pull a drapery cord to unveil the statue. Laura Lee Ricci, president of the SIUE student body, will preside at the ceremony, which is being sponsored by the Student Government.

Pres. Rendleman, who was named chancellor of the local university in July 1968, became the first president of SIUE on Sept. 1, 1971, when it became operationally autonomous. He died March 4, 1976, at the age of 48 due to cancer.

The bust was sculpted by Kenneth Ryden, assistant professor, department of art and design, who also created a bust of Delyte W. Morris, former president of SIUE under whose leadership the campus here was developed. The Morris bust, on permanent display in the foyer of the Communications Building, was unveiled in a ceremony April 9, 1976.

Prof. Ryden said the sculpture of Pres. Rendleman is slightly larger than life-size and was created from memory, photographs and consultation with the president's colleagues, friends and relatives. The work took the artist nearly two and a half months to complete, and he began planning it some time before that.

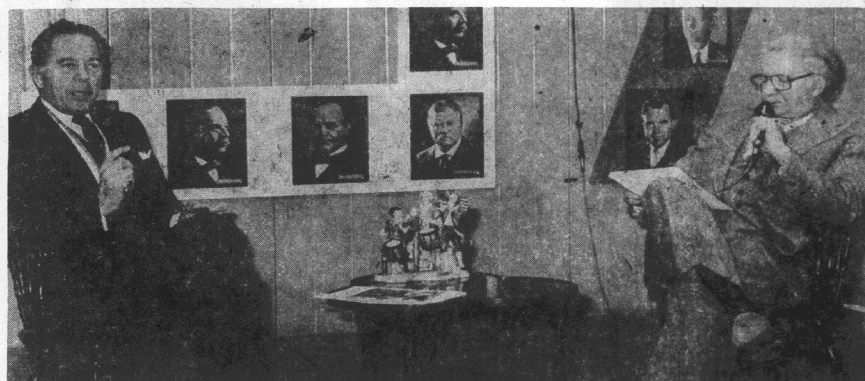

"I tried above all to capture a feeling for Mr. Rendleman's many-faceted personality, to indicate his human qualities as well as his professional stature," Ryden said.

"I had the privilege of meeting him on many occasions. This proved to be the most important source of information for my doing this bust. I'm glad to have had the opportunity of doing this work, and I hope it aids in commemorating his wealth of significant contributions to SIUE and our community."

272 YEARS VOLUNTEER SERVICE in the Boy Scouts of America is honored during the weekend at North cafeteria. The

AT YOUR SERVICE blended well with "Be Prepared" during the weekend as Rex Davis, area newsman, at right, interviews Arch Monson Jr., San Francisco, Calif., national president of the Boy Scouts of America, at Granite City High School North cafeteria. Monson, rather than giving a speech at the Cahokia Mound Council Scout dinner, was interviewed by Davis about the world's largest youth program. Nearly 400 local volunteer leaders attended the dinner.

McCloud is getting around more lately

By NANCY ANDERSON
Press-Record

Hollywood Bureau Country singer Hoyt Axton plays a dramatic role in a "McCloud" episode this year set in Russia, though in fact it was filmed in California.

"In the past, we've tried to add variety to the series by going to foreign locations," its star, Dennis Weaver says. "Last year, we went to Australia, for example. But we didn't actually go to Russia."

"We just have an episode with a Russian background. The way we get McCloud to Russia is this. He has a good friend who's a country singer, played by Hoyt Axton, who's going on a personal appearance tour and who needs a babysitter."

DENNIS WEAVER

"He has a drug problem McCloud doesn't know about. In the Russian episode I get involved with Britt Ekland, who is kind of nice to be involved with."

"McCloud" will run for only an hour and a half per episode this season as opposed to two hours in previous years, and Weaver feels the reduced time slot is an improvement.

"No show going can keep an audience for two hours," he holds. Weaver is playing "McCloud" for the seventh year, so he hasn't been the contrived cop quite as long as he was in "Gunsmoke."

"I was Chester for nine years," he reflects, "and whether I'll want to be McCloud for nine years or longer, I don't yet know. Ask me about that two years from now."

"But when I'd been Chester as long as I've been McCloud, I was already ready to leave 'Gunsmoke.'"

"I don't feel that way about this series."

Large turnout at dance

A dance to benefit the campaigns of candidates of the United for Progress Party of Nameoki Township during the weekend drew "an overflow crowd," according to Harold Davis, candidate for township supervisor.

The dance was held in the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department's Recreation Hall in Pontoon Beach and entertainment was provided by Art Lavelle's Starlighter Band.

Party Chairman Mike Ropce

introduced the other officers of the party, some of the officials present and the candidates.

Candidates of the United for Progress Party introduced were: Harold W. Davis, candidate for supervisor; Douglas M. Teator, incumbent town clerk; Albert E. Bell, incumbent highway commissioner; Richard L. Peck, incumbent tax collector; Carl Macios, incumbent assessor; W. Lee Adams and Norman A. Heuser, incumbent trustees, and Joseph B. Boyer and Jerry L. Adams, trustee candidates.

Davis gave a short talk, outlining the goals of the party and urging support for the entire United for Progress Party ticket.

Fire damages Unger's Market

Fire at 5:50 p.m. Monday at Unger's Market, 2282 State St., caused about $300 to the building and there was smoke damage to the interior and some of the stock.

The cause has not been determined, but a cigarette on the work table is suspected. Boxes containing tools, nuts and screws on the work table started on fire, catching soda cartons afire.

The fire spread from the table to the floor supports. Granite City firemen were on the scene one hour and 10 minutes.

Washington cuts admission

The Washington Theater in Granite City has reduced admission costs substantially in a new program to attract more persons to the movies; it was announced by Arthur Enterprises, Inc., St. Louis, which operates the theater.

Effective yesterday, the admission price was lowered to $1 for everyone, adults and children alike.

Previously the cost was $2.25 for an adult and $1.25 for a child.

"Due to high costs resulting from inflation in just about everything, many families have been unable to pay the higher costs to take the entire family to the movies," a spokesman said. "We believe that under this new schedule of admission cost, more persons, particularly parents, will feel more able to afford a night at the theater," he said.

He said the price will be effective for all regular showings "unless some extra special production justifies an adjustment."

dards of the National Honor Society was presented by Beth Potillo, president; Chris Rapoff, treasurer; Glenda Calvin, secretary; Brian Konzen, vice-president, and Frank Reid, member.

Pass-no credit option expanded

A student attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville may elect to enroll in up to 24 quarter hours of undergraduate coursework under a pass-no credit option, according to C. B. Collier, assistant registrar at the University.

In the past, the pass-no credit option applied only to general studies courses. Now, any undergraduate course may be placed under the pass-no credit option with certain reservations, Collier explained. Credit in courses in which the grade is "pass" will not ordinarily be accepted by an academic unit to meet specific course requirements of a program. To avoid making a mistake, students are being urged to discuss the matter with their advisors before placing a course on pass-no credit.

Under this option, the student receives a "pass" for grades of A, B or C. He/she receives a "no credit" for grades of D or E. At the time of declaring the pass-no credit option, students may stipulate that they would rather receive the grade of D than "no credit" whenever the occasion warrants it.

Under the pass-no credit option, the instructor keeps and records the student's grades in the usual manner and the Office of Admissions and Records converts the grades to the pass-no credit basis when the student has placed the option into operation.

Students who wish to declare the pass-no credit option for courses during the winter quarter may do so by visiting the enrollment office in the week of March 7.

Pontoon Beach water rates are increased

For the first time since its creation in 1959, the Pontoon Beach Public Water District has found it necessary to increase its rates to meet operating costs, Andy Bukovac, chairman of the district's board of trustees, announced Monday.

Higher labor and operating costs and recent water main breaks were cited as the main reasons for the increase. Bukovac noted the new rates are much lower than when the district first started and added there have been four decreases in the water rates since 1959, while other water companies have had increases. The last rate change, a decrease, was approved in 1972.

The basic charge for the first 2,000 gallons of water remains the same as it has been for several years, $2.75 per month, while the charge for the next 8,000 gallons increases from 90-cents to $1.35 per 1,000 gallons. Usage over 10,000 gallons per month increases from 50-cents per 1,000 gallons to 65-cents. The minimum charge is $2.75 per month.

Bukovac compared the rates to 1959 rates, when the district opened with heavy bond indebtedness for its facilities. In 1959, users were charged $4 for the first 2,000 gallons, $1.40 per 1,000 gallons for the next 3,000 gallons, 80-cents per 1,000 for the next 5,000 gallons, and 50-cents per 1,000 gallons after 10,000 gallons were used.

The minimum monthly charge in 1959 was $4. The rates apply to single-family units using a standard five-eighths inch meter.

For multiple-family residences using a single three-quarter inch meter, the charges will be multiplied by a formula assuring that each family pays the same amount for water as other families in the district.

The new rates were applied Feb. 3 by action of the board of trustees, Bukovac explained.

GC Unit studies Creole cookery

"Creole Cookery" was the major lesson presented by Mrs. Anne Pare and Mrs. Mary Zikovich to the members of Granite City Unit of Madison County Homemakers Extension Association, last week at Grace Baptist Church.

The Creole cuisine is one of the most unusual and palatable temptations to be found anywhere in the world. It combines the delicate touch with food and sharp economy of the French; the love of hotly spiced foods and a tendency to mix meat and poultry in the same dish with or over rice from the Spanish; the seasonings skills of the Choctaw Indians and the infinite patience of the African cooks, it was noted. The members were served luncheon from the Creole cookery menu by Mrs. Pare and Mrs. Zikovich.

Mrs. Wilma Owca and Mrs. Olivia Bergschneider, hostesses used a Valentine heart theme for table decorations. Members served were Mesdames Mary Blankenship, Hazel Cline, Emma Goble, Bernice Johanningmeier, Rosalia Johanningmeier, Marcie Johnson, LaNell Lesseg, Toni Lynch, Freddy McElroy, Anna Michels, Helen Oberlin, Madge Ramsey, Helen Parks, Elizabeth Schmidt, Florence Simpson, Martha Taylor, Katherine Todoroff, Laura Travis, Mary Uherick, Josephine Uram.

Mrs. Owca presented the January safety lesson on electric safety and Mrs. Pare gave the health lesson on diabetes.

Mrs. Helen Oberlin, unit chairman, conducted the business meeting. There was discussion on the annual state convention on the campus of University of Illinois, Wardell Hall on March 15, 16 and 17. Reservations are due by March 2, she added and all members were invited to attend.

Cardiovascular Health was the topic of the January major lesson given at this meeting, also, by Mrs. Rosalia Johanningmeier and Mrs. Freddy McElroy. This meeting had been cancelled due to the severe weather in January. The basic ideas about the heart (cardio) and blood vessels (vascular) and how they combine to form a cardiovascular network. They also explained the heart and its functions and cardiovascular disorders.

Mrs. Oberlin announced that the next meeting would be on March 2. The major lesson topic to be "Mixing the Old with the New" to be presented by Mrs. Freddy McElroy and Mrs. Marcie Johnson.

Dinner honors Glik retiree

Mrs. Edna Stich, who resigned from Glik's Department Stores this year, was guest of honor at a party held at Charlie's Restaurant, hosted by the employees of the Madison and Bellemore stores.

The honoree was presented with a corsage and many gifts including a walnut plaque with Helen Steiner Rice's poem, "Climb 'Til Your Dream Comes True" autographed by the employees.

Mrs. Stich has been employed at Glik's for several years in the payroll department and was the personnel director for the company's 13 stores.

After dinner the evening was spent in playing games and prizes awarded to the winner. Among the guests present were Mrs. Vicki Stich, the honoree's daughter-in-law and Doris Wilson, Fay Little and Polly Tutka, former store employees.

Speech sectional at South High

Forty-eight area schools will be represented Saturday at the Illinois High School Association's Sectional Speech Contest at Granite City High School.

Competition will start at 8:30 a.m. and continue through 4 p.m.

Both Granite City High School North and South will have candidates entered in the sectional event.

Individual and duet contests will feature oratory, extemporaneous radio speaking, dramatic interpretation, verse reading and dramatic and humorous duet acting sequences.

Students competing Saturday earned first through third place awards in the District Speech Contest held during the past weekend at the East Alton-Wood River High School.

Checkerboard Squares perform

The Checkerboard Squares, a local dance group, opened their 1977 program on community service by performing during the weekend at Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

Highlight of the afternoon's presentation was a "square" of the younger members of the group, ranging in age from five to eight, who delighted the residents with their quick steps, according to Bob Boyd, director of the Checkerboard Squares.

Mrs. Emma Boyd, the Checkerboard Squares 89-year-old "grandma" performed with the group and continued her innovation of former years of taping her program in advance and then playing three-part harmony on the violin.

According to the director, this project is the initial step in encouraging other performing groups to devote one or two days a month to provide free entertainment at nursing homes, senior citizen organizations and to other residents who are limited in their ability to attend such functions.

Dancers participating in the program were Frank White, Green and Jerry Iker, Donald Marcum, Anthony Evanoff, Ray Jones, Brian and Vincent Dohal, Alan Lewis, Tommy Jones, Joe Schuler, Joe Anselmo, Debbie Aerne, Kim Smith, Dawn Langford, Terry Schuler, Theresa Stanton.

Lisa Dohal, Bea Sylvia and Brenda Gott, Tracy Jones, Diane Gorka, Denise Pingel, Kim O'Dell, Diane and Cheryl Silver, Chrissy Evanoff, Sherri Marcum, Gail Roberson, Candy and Tammy Wall, Kayna Rogers, and Steve Dohal and Jim Taylor, staff callers.

Mrs. Love hostess to Past Noble-Club

The Past Noble Grand Club of Ann Rutledge Rebekah Lodge attended a noon luncheon last week held in the home of Mrs. Helen Love, 1724 Primrose Ave.

A Valentine motif was carried out in the table appointments and game prizes.

Mrs. Clara Harbig, president, presided at the business meeting which was followed by an afternoon of pinocle games. Those receiving prizes were Irene Hendricks, Marvel Clover and Edna McKay.

Also attending was a guest, Mrs. Kathryn Edmonds. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Harbig, 2153 Pontoon Road.

Retroactive tax 'take,' future taxpayer 'break'

(First of a series of six articles on 1976 income taxes, prepared by the Southern Chapter of the Illinois CPA Society.)

The Tax Reform Act of 1976 made a number of changes in the tax laws, not all of which apply to 1976 incomes.

In many cases, changes that will increase tax revenues are palmed retroactively while those that give the taxpayer a break take effect later, according to J. Darrell Burton, president of the Southern Chapter of the Illinois CPA Society.

Also, the net effect of the changes will be to increase the tax burden on persons with higher incomes while easing it somewhat for those in the lower brackets.

For example, the new law seeks to curb "tax shelters," which have brought deductions for costs which in some cases were larger than an investor's actual investment.

Under a new "at risk" provision, losses in such ventures are allowed only to the extent of the individual's investment at the close of the tax year.

At the other end of the income scale, working parents who must pay someone to look after their children get more generous tax assistance, if their combined taxable incomes are under $8,000.

For those with taxable incomes between $8,000 and $35,000, the new law normally is less generous than the old one.

Some of the other changes in the law that apply to 1976 income tax returns, are:

If you own a vacation home, you rent out for part of the year, your deductions for depreciation, maintenance, utilities and the like now cannot exceed rental income if you use the vacation home yourself for more than two weeks a year or more than 10 per cent of the number of days it was rented, whichever is greater.

Another big break for most taxpayers is the continuation and expansion of the general income tax credit. Last year, the credit was $30 for each taxpayer and dependent.

That has been raised to the greater of $35 times the number of exemptions, or two per cent of the first $9,000 of taxable income. In other words, there is a maximum credit of $180 for those with incomes of at least $9,000 and fewer than six exemptions.

For most of us, the sick pay exclusion which protected from taxation part of the wages received while off the job because of illness is ended. The maximum weekly sick pay exclusion of $100 now is available only to taxpayers who are under 65 and who are totally and permanently disabled.

In addition, the disabled person whose annual income, including the disability payments, exceeds $15,000, has his weekly benefits cut.

When he reaches the $20,200 level, the benefits are reduced to zero.

The provision formerly referred to as "retirement income credit" has been renamed "credit for the elderly," and the rules for claiming it have been liberalized.

For example, all types of income, including earned income, can now be partially protected from taxation.

The maximum income base against which the 15 per cent credit can be claimed has been increased to $2,500 for single persons and married couples filing jointly, where both are over 65, it's $3,750.

One category of wage earner who will be hit hard by the new tax law is the American citizen employed abroad.

The amount of his earnings excluded from taxation has been cut to $15,000.

On top of that, he no longer can claim credit for income taxes paid to foreign governments on the excluded amount, and his other income will be taxed at a high rate.

Often, persons whose incomes of less than $8,000 make them eligible for the earned income credit—which may be good for a cash refund of up to $400—are on welfare.

The threat of losing part of all of the welfare money caused many individuals to forego the credit.

To correct this, the new law provides that the earned income credit does not affect a person's eligibility for federally-assisted welfare.

The new tax law increases the minimum standard deduction or low income allowance from $1,600 to $1,700 for single persons and from $1,900 to $2,100 for married persons filing a joint return.

In an effort to simplify tax preparation for taxpayers who do their own returns, the new law has cut the 12 tax tables formerly in use to four.

The new tables can be used for taxable income up to $20,000 and are applicable whether the taxpayer itemizes or takes the standard deduction.

The term "simplification" is misleading in this instance, however, since the reduction in the number of tables means the taxpayer must do more of his own arithmetic.

The Illinois CPA Society suggests, however, that as in the past, if your income is about average and you had no unusual financial transactions (home purchase, inheritance, divorce, self-employment income, etc.) during the year you should be able to prepare your own tax return.

CBers urged to obtain licenses

Howard D. Wolfe, executive director of the International CB Radio Operators Association (Roanoke, Va.), the nation's largest citizen band radio user organization, has called for all CB users to take advantage of a December court decision that termed Federal Communications Commission collection of license fees "improper."

The United States Court of Appeals in Washington, D. C., ruled that the practice of the FCC, to collect license processing fees for people and firms issued radio and television licenses by the agency, was not based on proper Congressional authority.

The court directed the FCC to return all large fees collected to date, but CBs' $4 license fee apparently will not be returned.

"CB license fees have traditionally been low, although they were $20 each as recently as three years ago," notes Wolfe. "When the FCC lowered the license application fee to $4, there was a sudden and dramatic growth in CB radio."

"Still, there were many people who bought their radios but did not bother to file for a license even with the $4 fee," Wolfe said.

"Everyone who uses a CB radio should understand that there are stiff penalties for operating the radio without a license. The FCC has the authority to fine a person up to $10,000 or put him into federal prison for up to two years if he is caught without a license.

"With the license fee eliminated, it makes no sense for a person to operate without a license. The risks are simply too great."

License application forms are available from any dealer who sells CB equipment, and by federal law every CB set sold must have a pair of license applications packed into the shipping container.

One of the two forms is a temporary license, which the user may put to use immediately. There is no waiting for an FCC license to operate the radio anymore, with the temporary permit system. The second form in the box is for a permanent, five-year license.
